Reed closes Armco career

Elmer N. Reed, 619 Fairway Drive, has closed a 30-year career with the Armco Steel Corp.

Reed, an industrial engineer at the Armco Steel Corp. Metal Products Division plant in Washington C.H., retired from the position effective Aug. 31.

He had served as supervisor of the industrial engineering department at the Washington C.H. plant for the past 23 years.

REED ACTUALLY joined Armco Steel Corp., in Butler, Pa., as a machine shop worker in Sept. 25, 1939 and served five years with the U.S. Army during World War II and attained the rank of major in the Corps of Engineers. He returned to the Armco Steel Corp. operation in Butler, Pa., in 1946 and advanced to the position of industrial engineer.

The 65-year-old Reed joined the Washington C.H. operation in 1951 as supervisor of the industrial engineering department.

A 1934 graduate of Washington and Jefferson College, Reed also attended graduate school at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland. Active in Masonic affairs, Reed is a member and past president of the Washington C.H. Lions Club, the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce, Friends of the Library Committee, the Fayette County Republican Club and Grace United Methodist Church.

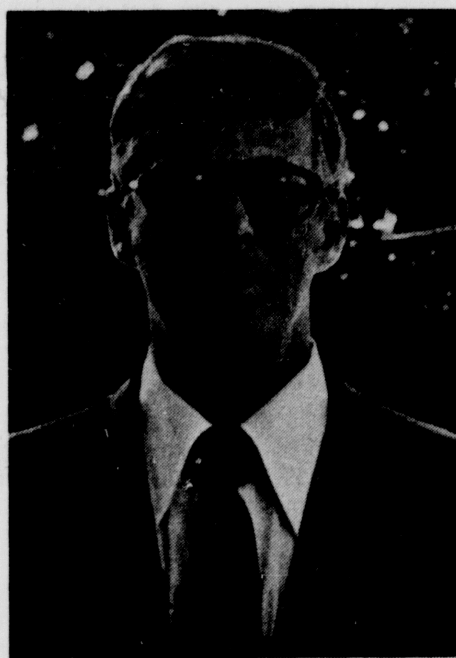

ELMER N. REED

He was a member and past president of the Washington C.H. Board of Education, serving on the board eight years. Reed is also a member of the Fayette County Board of Elections and is presently serving a two-year term on the American Cancer Society's Ohio board of trustees.

He and his wife, Helen, have no children.

Armco Steel Corp. officials have also announced that Bill Autrey, formerly of Middletown, has been appointed

Akron resident wins Buckeye 300 drawing

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—Harriet R. Motz of Bath Township, near Akron, won $300,000 today in the second weekly drawing of the Buckeye 300.

The drawing in a shopping center here followed the regular drawing for weekly winners, some of whom will have a chance to duplicate Harriet Motz' winnings a week from today.

Ray Brewer of Dayton won $30,000 and the rest of the six participants drew the minimum $15,000 each.

There was no $60,000 winner, a commission spokesman said, because of lottery rules.

The commission spokesman said distribution of prizes is based upon the number who have validated their winning tickets by the time of the drawing.

"If we have one person claiming a prize and that's all, we'll have a $300,000 winner," the spokesman said. "If we have two, it doesn't necessarily mean there will be a $60,000 winner."

"It is not until you get to eight participants that you get a $60,000 winner," he added. He said the minimum for having a $30,000 winner is five, based

Winning digits

CLEVELAND (AP)—The winning three-digit number this week in the Ohio Lottery was 055, and the winning double number was 085 168, the Ohio Lottery Commission announced Thursday.

on rules adopted by the commission before the lottery began.

Winners of the $15,000 prizes were Terry McClure of Madison, Thomas E. Fowles of North Canton, Donald Green of Amesville and Charles C. Lewis, Middleport.

The winning single three-digit number drawn today was 055 and the winning double number, from which comes next week's Buckeye 300 winners, was 085 168, the commission said.

Medina Mayor Gus Abel did the drawing.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the waning days of Richard M. Nixon's presidency, his family concluded it would be useless to fight impeachment to the bitter, predictable end, says David Eisenhower, Nixon's son-in-law.

"It became our conclusion that history will treat this administration just as unkindly simply for the sake of grinding the country down for another six months, given the economic chaos..." Eisenhower said.

In a luncheon interview three weeks after Nixon surrendered the presidency, Eisenhower, 26, discussed the family's reaction to the politically fatal June 23 tape recordings and Nixon's decision to resign.

"I think he was surprised by the fact that his family was willing to go through it, if need be," Eisenhower said.

He also said it would be a good idea if Nixon ran again for public office. "He's been defensive... he's been bitter. He's been all the rest in the last year and a half," Eisenhower said. "But in calmer times under different circumstances, the man has a heck of a lot to contribute."

"If he went into the Senate, I think it would be a good idea... But I'm positive he's not thinking about it now."

Asked if he thought Nixon lied to the country about his knowledge of the Watergate cover-up, Eisenhower said, "I don't know. I don't know what's on the rest of the tapes. I'm not going to pass judgment on that."

Nixon was reluctant to tell his family about the damaging contents of the WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford told a White House economic conference today that the American people are "sick and tired of having politics played with their pocketbooks" and want solutions to inflation.

Addressing a meeting of 28 economists and eight members of Congress, Ford said he wants his economic summit later this month to bring "action that is practical, possible and as rapid in its effects as we can reasonably expect."

He said the need is for "attainable answers sharply defined and sorted out."

The participants in today's meeting represent a range of economic viewpoints, from former Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz to Harvard economist J. Kenneth Galbraith, one-time adviser of Democratic presidents.

On the eve of today's meeting, Ford witnessed the swearing in of Alan Greenspan as chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers and said both he and Greenspan are optimistic about the economy.

Greenspan, who left his New York consulting firm to succeed Herbert Stein in the key post, is known to favor as little government interference as possible in the economy. "I like his approach," Ford said. "He is recognized as an optimist..."

The President acknowledged the economy is plagued by severe problems, but added, "we have to be optimistic about what we can do about it... That attitude is helpful and beneficial as we face some of the problems and hard decisions ahead."

A follow-up meeting has been scheduled for New York on Sept. 23, with the economists presenting detailed papers to be submitted to the full summit conference later that week.

Prior to the initial conference, White

Ehrlichman again seeks documents

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time in a Watergate trial, former presidential assistant John D. Ehrlichman is seeking hundreds of records and documents he left behind in the White House.

Attorneys for Ehrlichman, a defendant in the Watergate cover-up trial, issued a subpoena for the voluminous files Wednesday.

It calls for all of Ehrlichman's papers relating to the original Watergate burglary June 17, 1972, and all his records connected with White House taped presidential conversations about Watergate.

The subpoena also calls for Ehrlichman's files related to "any and all records of any person, maintained at the White House, which refer to or relate to the 'Watergate matter' from June 17, 1972, to and including May 1, 1973." Ehrlichman resigned from the White House April 30, 1973.

After a dispute over a similar subpoena in the Watergate plumbers trial in July, the White House eventually complied with specific requests for some Ehrlichman notes.

The other defendants in the trial are former White House chief of staff H.R. Haldeman, former Haldeman aide Gordon Strachan, former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and ex-Nixon re-election committee officials Kenneth W. Parkinson and Robert C. Mardian.

All have been charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice in allegedly seeking to smother the original investigation into the break-in at Democratic National Committee headquarters.

On Wednesday, Aug. 7, a day before he announced his decision to the country, Nixon told his family he would resign. "We were concerned whether the smoking pistol was here or not, whether the innocence or so-called guilt. However the issues were resolved, as a family it was best to remind ourselves that 1968 was not a mistake, that if the Nixon administration came to a premature end, so be it."

Eisenhower stressed that the Watergate tragedy has not ended for Nixon. "There's still something very direct and very threatening at issue right now," he said. "He's already been subpoenaed... It's clear he has financial trouble... but certainly a candid memoir would be worth a tremendous amount of money."

The family gathered in the privacy of the second floor of the White House. The then-president supplied transcripts and instructions "to think about it a little while and come back," Eisenhower said, without revealing exactly what Nixon told his family.

House coordinator L. William Seidman and White House Press Secretary Jerald F. terHorst said it was unlikely Congress could act this year on any major proposals flowing from the summit.

This view brought expressions of dismay from some congressional leaders.

"We just can't wait too long before some action is taken, because inflation and unemployment are both increasing," said Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield.

Mansfield said he would continue to press for reimposing wage and price controls, a move opposed by Ford and his advisers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford appears to have used the American foreign policy establishment as a refuge for people whose past identification with Richard M. Nixon could embarrass the White House.

Two of three major diplomatic appointments announced Wednesday fall in this description, according to U.S. officials and some foreign diplomats posted here.

The sources also included the White House decision to restore presidential chief of staff Alexander M. Haig Jr. to military duty, possibly as commander of NATO armed forces.

Ford named George Bush as the new head of the U.S. mission in Peking, ending his 21-month role as Republican national chairman.

Appointed ambassador to France was Kenneth Rush who served as Nixon's economic policy coordinator and who once taught law to Nixon.

"This certainly is not a question of Ford trying to show he is in command of foreign policy by these appointments," a State Department source said. "These are not his people."

A Western European diplomat agreed. "He's showing the door to some men who could give him trouble, but he is not hurting them either. These are good jobs, but they are out of the American sight-line."

The evident exception to the effort to send abroad former key Nixon associates was the decision to name former Kentucky GOP Sen. John Sherman Cooper as first American ambassador to East Germany. Cooper was not closely tied to Nixon.

Bush and Rush, however, were tightly attached to Nixon and his policies. As GOP chairman, Bush spent nearly all his tenure defending Nixon's Watergate role and scoffing at those who cast suspicion on the then president.

Services are being arranged by the Porter Funeral Home. Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Mary Henkleman, Rt. 1, Mount Sterling.

Tropical storm builds

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A new depression close to tropical storm size has the attention of hurricane watchers today as Dolly died quietly in the North Atlantic and Carmen remained stationary off eastern Mexico.

The depression was located 450 miles east-northeast of Barbados in the Windward Islands late Wednesday. The National Hurricane Center in Miami said the depression was moving west-northwest at about 15 miles per hour.

If its surface winds of 25 to 35 m.p.h. build into sustained winds of 39 m.p.h., it would become the season's fifth tropical storm, Elaine.

Dolly, meanwhile, lost its tropical storm characteristics late Wednesday as it moved rapidly away from the northeast coast of the United States.

And Carmen, which deteriorated from hurricane status after slamming the Yucatan Peninsula on Monday with 150 m.p.h. winds, was reported swirling idly in the Gulf of Campeche, about 65 miles west of Campeche, Mexico.

Its winds dropped 10 m.p.h. to 55 m.p.h. on Wednesday and little change in strength was expected through today.

Mrs. Ford backs rights amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the first full-scale White House news conference by a president's wife, Betty Ford has said she plans to avoid political issues but would be happy to campaign for the Equal Rights Amendment for women.

Smiling her way through a half-hour of questioning before an overflow crowd of 142 reporters and cameramen in the state dining room, Mrs. Ford said she will hold news conferences "as often as I think the press has anything to ask of interest."

In the wide-ranging session, Mrs. Ford said she favors liberalized abortion laws and that she would encourage women to play an active role in politics.

Mrs. Ford gave differing responses about her feelings on a second term for her husband when reporters pressed her on son Jack's report that she was upset at the prospect of Ford's running

Environment chief pleased with Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — Environmental Protection Administrator Russell E. Train says President Ford wants to work directly with agency heads on major policy decisions "and not be shielded by his staff or by option papers."

Train, who never met privately with former President Nixon, discussed environmental issues with President Ford for 45 minutes Wednesday in the White House Oval Office.

Delighted at the result, Train reported in an interview: "He said he expected me to see him personally whenever I had a major issue to discuss ... He also expected me to have a regular appointment with him every month or two."

Uncertain over the White House "ground rules" for discussing the meeting with a reporter, Train placed a quick telephone call and then relayed the reply: "They said the ground rules were tell him anything he wants to know."

Train went on to outline these highlights of his meeting with the President:

—There was no detailed discussion of substantive issues in this first meeting, but Train advised the President he would soon have to consider his position on at least two major environmental questions.

—One question was the extent of federal funding to aid municipal construction of waste treatment plants, a major program against water pollution. Ford has promised to cut federal spending in his fight against inflation, but has not said where the ax will fall.

—Train said the other question was the administration's position on amending the Clean Air Act; Train favors amendments to give him more flexibility in the clean-up of air and water and said he told Ford the amendments "needed a push."

"I found him exceedingly easy and responsive to talk with, not preoccupied at all and obviously listening carefully," Train said.

"He indicated a very real interest in maintaining the progress of environmental programs ... He indicated to me no biases or fixed opinions in this area, which I think augurs very well."

Train said the question of whether he would keep his job never came up, "but we both talked as if we were kind of assuming that I was staying."

Military leadership changes massive

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's nomination of a new Army chief of staff will complete a nearly total turnover in the nation's highest military body over the past 13 months.

The death of Gen. Creighton W. Abrams on Wednesday created a vacancy in the post of Army chief of staff, which Ford will fill some time after Abrams is buried in Arlington National Cemetery on Friday.

Top level retirements and promotions since early August last year have brought new faces to the jobs of chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, Air Force chief of staff, and chief of naval operations. Only the commandant of the Marine Corps remains as before.

Despite changes in four of the five members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, there is little prospect of any dramatic shift of policies. There could be some differences in style, with certain of the new chiefs less visible than their predecessors.

O'Brien says Ted Kennedy shouldn't run

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy has the broadest support among possible Democratic presidential nominees but should not run because of possible attempts on his life, says Lawrence F. O'Brien.

The former Democratic party chairman described the Massachusetts senator as virtually unbeatable for the party nomination and said he is heir to the constituencies developed by his brothers, President John F. Kennedy, who was assassinated in 1963, and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, who was slain five years later.

O'Brien, who rose to national political prominence as a campaign aide to John Kennedy, commented in a telephone interview Wednesday.

As a Kennedy, the Massachusetts senator "arouses the strongest passions in people," O'Brien said. "I fear history would repeat itself. I'd be inclined to say that he should not run."

O'Brien said that since the installation of Gerald R. Ford in the White House, the outlook for Democrats in 1976 has become uncertain. The decisive factor in the 1976 presidential election will be Ford's "ability to cope with major overriding economic problems," O'Brien predicted.

President adds stop to trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has added another appearance to his rapidly expanding list of trips.

The President will go to Pittsburgh next Monday to visit the Sixth International Conference on Urban Transportation. White House Press Secretary Jerald F. terHorst announced Wednesday.

Other upcoming trips include Detroit, Philadelphia, Indianapolis, Louisville and Barre, Vt.

In 1976.

Do you want him to run again? "I feel at this point two years is quite a long way away. I wouldn't want to commit myself one way or another."

Then, asked whether she would run happily with Ford in 1976, the President's wife said, "It depends on the state of the country."

For her part, though, she said, "I will not take a politically active part in politics as far as issues are concerned."

But, when asked if she would be active in campaigning for approval of the Equal Rights Amendment in states which have not voted on it, she said, "Yes, I would be happy to take part in it."

As for her role as First Lady, Mrs. Ford said she's already finding it's "a very busy life." She said she expects her interests to be in art and children, especially the underprivileged and mentally retarded.

Mrs. Ford said she sees no reason why the Fords won't maintain their normal family relationship in the White House. She said she was "completely dumbfounded the way the children adjusted.... They were just perfectly happy. We have had servants at home, so it isn't as if we were not used to having help."

She reported that the President, who always made his own breakfast in their Alexandria, Va., home, "has become accustomed to the very good service we have in the upstairs family dining room. He finds it quite convenient. So I can't promise you that he is getting his own breakfast."

The only previous First Lady to hold formal White House press conferences was Eleanor Roosevelt, but hers were limited to women reporters.

The hint of autumn weather spread over Ohio during the night. Temperatures dropped into the 40s under nearly cloudless skies, accompanied by light winds.

The only clouds of consequence have been along the Lake Erie shore where they formed over the warm lake and drifted onto land. In the south, fog formed along the Ohio River as it has done many nights this week.

Lowest temperature reported by early morning Thursday was a 38 reading in Doylestown in extreme northeastern Wayne County. The mercury dropped to 44 degrees in Cleveland, breaking the previous record of 46 degrees. The previous record had stood since 1876.

The morning weather map showed a high pressure area over the Great Lakes and the Ohio Valley, centered in lower Michigan. The high will move slowly east, giving Ohio cool temperatures but sunny skies today.

Mostly fair Saturday and Sunday. A chance of showers Monday. Highs in the 80s. Lows in the 50s Saturday morning and in the low to mid 60s early Monday.

Recognition of East Germany by U.S. seen big success

BERLIN (AP) — A 25-year Communist drive for Western acceptance of East Germany as a sovereign nation has scored its greatest success with diplomatic recognition by the United States.

The United States on Wednesday became the 111th country to recognize East Germany, which already enjoys normal relations with most of Western Europe. East and West Germany both became members of the United Nations last year.

West Germany has not given full recognition to its sister state, maintaining for the record that they are still part of a single nation. The prewar single state of Germany has been kept divided by cold war politics since World War II, when the Russians overran the eastern part while the United States, Britain and their allies occupied the western half.

East Germany came into being in 1949 to rival the Allies' creation a few months earlier of West Germany.

The year before, the Soviet Union tried to incorporate all of divided Berlin into its sphere by mounting a land blockade of West Berlin. An Allied airlift thwarted the move.

In 1961, to stop a massive exodus of skilled persons fleeing to the West, the Communists erected the Berlin Wall between the eastern and western parts of the city.

East Germany, or the German Democratic Republic, now has 17 million people living in an area the size of Ohio. Although it was mostly agricultural and had little significant heavy industry before the war, it is now the ninth-ranking industrial nation in the world and the envy of the Soviet Bloc. It boasts new iron works, harbors and shipyards, and computer technology is a specialty.

It is the world's leading producer of lignite coal and the eastern terminus of a Soviet oil pipeline that supplies Eastern and Central Europe.

The political system is run by the Socialist Unity Party of Germany, the Communist party. Minor parties are represented in the Volkskammer, the one-house parliament, but the Communists control the selection of their candidates.

The Communist party leader is Erich Honecker, who came to power in 1971 when Soviet pressure and poor health forced longtime strongman Walter Ulbricht to the sidelines. Ulbricht died a year ago.

President Ford has named John Sherman Cooper, the former Republican senator from Kentucky, to be the first American ambassador to East Germany. U.S. sources in West Berlin say he will probably not arrive until next year, but a charge d'affaires should be opening the embassy sometime sooner.

Stock prices post gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rang up a moderate gain today in a technical upturn boosted by a new Federal Reserve Board gesture toward easier money.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 7.04 at 655.04, and gainers led losers by close to 2 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Fed's reduction of the amount of reserve banks must hold against some large certificates of deposit, announced late Wednesday, helped spur a strong wave of buying at the opening. Many investors apparently took the news as a sign of a more relaxed monetary stance by the central bank, although experts were quick to point out their belief that the move had little significance by itself for the interest-rate outlook.

The Big Board volume leader was Pfizer, unchanged at 23. A 75,000-share block of the stock traded at 23 1/4.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index rose .26 to 67.64.

The NYSE's noon composite index of all its listed common stocks was up .34 at 36.27.

Austral Oil headed the Amex most-active list, up 1/8 at 7 1/4.

Household income up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The median income of U.S. households rose in 1973 to $10,512, more than $800 above the previous year, but inflation kept the actual gain in purchasing power to a bare 2.1 per cent.

The Census Bureau reported Wednesday that household income in total dollars rose by 8.4 per cent from the $9,698 median recorded in 1972.

The percentage boosts in total dollars and purchasing power were the same as those reported by the Census in July for family income, which rose to a median $12,051 in 1973. The median is the point at which half of the incomes are above the figure and half below.

Family income encompasses the 55 million units of related persons, while the nearly 700 million households include families, unrelated persons sharing a home and persons living alone.

The Census figures showed that the highest average incomes were in households in non-farm areas and headed by white men 45 to 54 years old.

New Emmys awarded

NEW YORK (AP)—ABC anchorman Harry Reasoner and former public TV newsman Bill Moyers each have received national Emmy awards as the year's "outstanding television news broadcaster."

New look given to GOP politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has given a new look to the first team at Republican national headquarters by naming the GOP's first woman chairman.

Mrs. Mary Louise Smith of Iowa, a veteran GOP organizer who ran a series of grass-roots workshops in her six months as co-chairman, was chosen by Ford on Wednesday to replace George Bush.

Bush, who spent much of his 20-month tenure defending former President Richard M. Nixon, will head the U.S. mission to mainland China with the rank of ambassador.

Mrs. Smith, who will be elected formally when the Republican National Committee meets here Sept. 16, said she will name Richard Obenshain of Virginia as her co-chairman, the party's No. 2 post.

Announcing the new political alignment Wednesday, Press Secretary Jerald F. terHorst said former Republican National Chairman Dean Burch will remain on the White House staff as "campaign coordinator" for the 1974 elections.

Insurance rules pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Comprehensive Health Planning Advisory Council recommended Wednesday that all health insurance plans be required by the state legislature to detail provisions and costs of their policies.

The recommendation was made as the Department of Insurance looked into proposed regulations of Blue Cross in Ohio. The department expects to issue new rules regarding health plans within the next few months.

The council also suggested that health insurance plans be required to carry the details on the front of the policy in nontechnical language to aid the consumer in making cost comparisons among various policies.

state Republican committeewoman who served on Ford's vice presidential staff, will be Burch's deputy, terHorst said.

Mrs. Smith, 59, said she hopes to make the national chairmanship "an ideal combination" of its twin past roles of being a spokesman for the national administration and trying to strengthen the Republican party organizationally.

She said she doesn't think the GOP has done enough to attract "women and blacks and other underrepresented groups" but added she opposes mandatory quotas as a means of assuring their participation.

Mrs. Smith called herself "a moderate conservative." She was a Nixon delegate in 1968 but said she "was not part of the Goldwater movement" in 1964.

DP&L reducing costs

DAYTON — The Dayton Power and Light Co. is further cutting costs to help offset rising expenditures. This is being done to increase efficiency, while still maintaining good service.

A major cost reduction program was launched about two years ago with the adoption of new operating budgets which are reviewed on a monthly basis. This was done to tighten control of all costs. Now, each department within the company is undergoing a more stringent re-evaluation to determine what work is absolutely necessary and what is not.

$28 million lawsuit filed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fifty-six present and former employees of the Columbus Coated Fabrics Co. here filed a $28 million damage suit Wednesday, contending they suffered permanent injuries by being exposed to chemicals on the job.

The suit claims the plaintiffs suffer peripheral neuropathy, a crippling nerve disease, as a result of coming into contact with two chemicals known as MBK and MEK after March, 1973.

Defendants in the action are the Eastman Kodak Co. and Eastman Chemical Products, Inc., of Cleveland; Coated Fabrics and its parent company, Borden, Inc., plus two Coated Fabrics officials and a doctor for the firm.

The suit says the chemicals were manufactured by Eastman and put on the market without assuring they were reasonably safe. Borden and Coated Fabrics were accused of failing to take steps to correct health hazards.

Rangers find body in Sequoia forest

PORT HUENEME, Calif. (AP)—Park rangers Wednesday found the body of Terry McCready, 23, of Cleveland, Ohio, in a deep gorge in Sequoia National Forest.

A Seabee stationed at the Navy construction battalion center here, McCready fell to his death Saturday while on a camping trip, officials said.

These are some of the actions taken by the company:

(1) Many jobs have been eliminated through natural attrition by retirement, death, and resignation. Only the very essential positions are being retained. New work procedures have been instituted wherever possible to increase efficiency.

(2) DP&L has instituted a new voluntary early retirement program for non-union personnel. This provides the eligible employees supplemental retirement benefits, if they retire by the end of this year, while reducing the total company payroll expense. A similar program has been offered bargaining unit employees and is being discussed with the union officials.

(3) To reduce soaring construction costs DP&L has formed a wholly owned subsidiary to construct new generation and transmission facilities.

(4) The number of fleet automobiles has been drastically reduced.

(5) The advertising budget has been substantially reduced. Advertising is now done only for consumer information.

(6) Sponsorship of scholarships and many civic programs has been curtailed, and

(7) Many other smaller but cumulatively significant cost reductions have also been put into effect.

Natural gas hikes given FPC boost

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Gas company executives across the midwest are praising last week's Federal Power Commission decision allowing the Consolidated Supply Co. of Pittsburgh a 9 per cent rate of return.

The officials say the language of the decision means the commission has recognized the sharply higher cost of borrowing money and will allow significant increases in rates.

Some executives suggest that the federal action may nudge some state utility commissions into allowing higher rates for gas distribution companies as well.

The power commission decision was written in allowing Consolidated to raise its rate of return from 8 to 9 per cent.

In the decision, the FPC states: "We can assure the companies over which we have jurisdiction that we are committed to allowing a rate of return which ... will maintain investor confidence and attract capital."

The decision was unanimous. Consolidated is the parent company of East Ohio Gas Co. here. The president of East Ohio, Francis Wright, is one of those who thinks the decision may have wide ranging impact.

"I would think state agencies would have to give consideration to a higher rate of return now that this has been done by a federal agency," Wright says.

Mark Salvino, president of Chicago-based Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America, agrees.

"What the FPC is saying," Salvino says, "is that it now has recognized a permanent change in the cost of money as something they have to deal with."

A vice president of the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., Jolly Johnson, says the decision is not a cure-all but contains encouraging language.

The language was characterized the same way by Robert Wegerle, a vice president of Columbia Gas System Inc. Columbia is the parent concern of Columbia Gas of Ohio, which supplies Cleveland's western suburbs.

He cites the following phrase as vital: "We recognize that rates must be adequate to permit the attraction of additional capital at a reasonable cost."

Columbia Gas stock, with a book value of $28 sells for $18, Wegerle says. "That makes it practically impossible to sell stock to raise money," he notes.

The FPC judges costs of piping gas and regulates prices at the wellhead.

Ohio's jobless rate lowest among big industrial states

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A U.S. Labor Department report shows that Ohio has fewer workers drawing unemployment compensation than any other industrial state in the nation.

About 64,000 or 1.7 per cent of Ohio's insured work force was drawing unemployment compensation in the month ending Aug. 10 compared to the national figure of 3.5 per cent.

Nearby industrial states such as Michigan registered 7.0 per cent, and Pennsylvania 3.4.

Unemployment compensation figures for the first six months of this year already have exceeded the total payments for 1973, said William Papier, director of research and statistics for the Bureau of Employment Services.

Ohio paid out $149.3 million in unemployment compensation by the end of June, compared to the $108.5 million total for 1973, he said.

"This doesn't necessarily reflect increased unemployment," Papier explained. "Benefits have been increased by legislative action."

Benefit checks increased about 24 per cent in the first half of this year, Papier said.

The average weekly check increased from $58.64 to $72.87, he said.

Unemployment has increased slightly, he said, but described 1973 as a "boom year for employment."

"This year you have an energy crisis which has contributed to unemployment figures."

"In that year, average employment reported by employers exceeded 3.5 million and the total payroll amounted to $31.9 billion. Both figures represented new all-time highs."

Papier credited Ohio's "greater diversification" in industry for the low claims rate.

Unemployment compensation figures are based on reports filed by 185,000 employers in Ohio who are required to submit quarterly tax returns in which they report their employment by month and their payroll each calendar quarter, Papier said.

An annual report by the Bureau of Employment Services shows that from 1972 to 1973, average employment and total payrolls in Ohio's 8 largest counties increased from 2.8 per cent in Montgomery County to 6.6 per cent in Lucas County. The total number of employees covered by the compensation law increased 12.3 per cent in 1973.

Opinion And Comment

No national police force

Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe raised and quickly knocked down the straw man of a national police force as a remedy for the swiftly rising incidence of crime in the United States. It would have been better had he simply not broached this possibility at all.

Some news broadcasts, in typical fashion described as "the hour's top story" Saxbe's suggestion that a national police force might have to be established to deal with the crime rise. This though, in the course of the broadcast, he had been quoted as saying in effect that such a force would be unacceptable to the American people and was not a good idea in any case. Unfortunately this irresponsible reporting left the impression that perhaps the attorney general of the United States favored such an approach.

We devoutly hope that this is not the case. National police forces, in spite of some notable exceptions - Britain's Scotland Yard, for example - have about them the smell of totalitarianism. Such a force, presumably superceding local police forces, would be wholly out of keeping with the American character.

The crime rate is deplorable: the increase in crime in recent months calls for a vigorous, to some extent an innovative and imaginative, response - something better than simply beefing up existing forces. The situation does not, however, call for the establishment of a super police force to overshadow and perhaps control local law enforcement efforts. The idea of a national police force runs counter to the best traditions of American society. Attorney General Saxbe would have been better advised not even to suggest the creation of such a force as a possible response to the nation's burgeoning crime rate.

WASHINGTON CALLING . . . By Marquis Childs

Simmering Mideast

WASHINGTON — Simmering on the back burner as the hard-pressed cooks in the State Department try to get a brief end-of-summer respite is the Middle East stew. It will not simmer long; events just ahead promise to bring a stern confrontation with the delicate balance between an uncertain peace and still another war.

A parade of Arab foreign ministers has just ended with the visit of Omar Saqqaf of Saudi Arabia. He is Minister of State for Foreign Affairs since King Faisal retains the title of foreign minister. Next week comes Prime Minister Itzhak Rabin of Israel who will have some plain words to convey to President Gerald Ford and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. There is the crunch with the question hovering in the air as to what concessions Rabin's government is prepared to make to get peace negotiations with the Arabs moving.

A deep suspicion among those coping with a highly volatile condition is that Israel would prefer to have no negotiations at all. Or at any rate the longer the delay the greater likelihood that the Israelis can simply stand pat. The fact that Kissinger announced Rabin's visit for early September caused great annoyance in Jerusalem since the hope had been to postpone it until November.

In the gloomy view of responsible officials a stand-pat position by Israel is likely to result in still another war. The Israelis are asking for a total of 4.5 billion in American arms. If they get that package they will feel they are strong enough to win any war with the Arabs.

But those here trying desperately to sustain the structure put together so painstakingly by Kissinger's shuttle diplomacy believe this is a tragic illusion. Weapons deployed in Egypt and in Syria can wipe out the Jewish state. A new war would almost certainly bring a confrontation between the two superpowers.

At the same time there is sympathetic understanding for Rabin's position. Succeeding Golda Meir who held the government together if only by the force of her remarkable personality, Rabin heads a coalition with only 61 votes out of the 120 in the Knesset.

Pressing hard on the right, opposed to any compromise is the Likud party with 38 votes and others in opposition are almost as adamant. Ambassador to Washington, beginning in 1968, Rabin came with a proud reputation as brilliant military tactician. He is credited with a large share of the lightning victory in the 1967 war. An able, aggressive ambassador, he is quite well aware of the relationship between the ardent friends of Israel in this country and the needs of a nation of 3,000,000 living in a sea of more than 80,000,000 Arabs.

He surely knows the sensitivity of a new President who has repeatedly proved his friendship for Israel. And it can hardly have escaped his notice that a congressional election is only two months away with Republican hopes spurred by the Nixon exit. Yet without concessions for the return of some of the conquered Arab land, negotiation is impossible.

The crux is Syria and the Golan

Heights. The Jews are saying they will not yield an inch of Golan which guards important Israeli settlements carved out after the 1967 war. When he was here last week Syrian Foreign Minister Abdul Khaddam in his three talks with Kissinger made it plain that at least token concessions were essential.

Syria is the linchpin. In a Syrian conflict with Israel, Kissinger's friend President Anwar Sadat of Egypt could not stay neutral. The whole structure so painstakingly put together by Kissinger and his chief lieutenant, Joseph Sisco, would fall to the ground and with it the hope of a peaceful settlement. Although it has hardly been recognized as such, what with the horrors of the Cyprus-Turkish-Greek explosion, we have seen, in effect, a truce in the Middle East in the months since shuttle diplomacy.

The end of this perilous road is unpredictable. The poison of the Palestinian guerrillas with new acts of savagery could tip the balance. And all the time he is in Washington Prime Minister Rabin will of necessity be looking over his shoulder at the deep divisions in his own troubled land.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

A mixed sort of day. You are in the midst of changing situations, some controversy, some highly interesting opportunities. Work matters out with your usual foresight.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Avoid tendencies toward restlessness, indecision. Protect yourself and others against dubious schemes, deceiving appearances and lack of restraint.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

You may be up against some unusual competition in your field, so keep alert. With your fine intelligence, you should be able to outrun the best.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Two admonitions for this day: Avoid impetuosity and don't drop a project which, even though slowmoving, is essentially productive, in favor of one whose outcome is dubious.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

You may feel disturbed at certain reactions to your efforts and fail to understand them. Don't retaliate in anger. Talk things over: You CAN straighten things out.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Entrust your affairs only to the trustworthy if you MUST put them in other hands but, where possible, handle what you can yourself. Curb emotions.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

If faced with a "sticky" problem, don't turn your back on it. Face it squarely, analyze carefully and you will reach a solution more quickly.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

The busier the day, the more efficient you often become. But be careful now not to overtax yourself by taking on too much. Don't waste time on nonessentials.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Don't split hairs when it comes to making important moves or decisions. Neither so diversity your activities that you accomplish tellingly in none.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Do not become involved in matters which do not really concern you, but DO take an interest in new trends within your own field.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

A highly favorable day. And there's more than one avenue by which to gain — your personality and manner of approach not the least among them.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

A partial change of routine or alteration of pace can energize your being now, just as a change of scenery or some recreation uplifts.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a bright, quick mind and willingness to put tremendous energy into any worthwhile endeavor. You are original in your thinking and your ideas are progressive but you are, at times, too self-conscious to advance them in the right places. Try to curb the feelings of self-doubt which assail you and the inhibitions which could slow your progress. Speak up! You will surely be heard. You are extremely versatile and could achieve outstanding success in the fields of science, the law, medicine, statesmanship, teaching or literature. Commercial design and the theater would be excellent outlets for your creative talents. Traits to curb: Moodiness and a tendency to be overexactng with members of your family as well as business associates.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

A year ago in May, I had vases, planters and shells stolen from my daughter's grave at Washington Cemetery. Last week vases and shells were again taken.

I know that the caretaker and the cemetery workers cannot watch everyone going in and out of the cemetery, so this letter is to the person or persons responsible. If there is something that I put out at the cemetery that you want, please ask me for it. I don't want it on your mind that you had to steal to get it.

Voters register at Ohio's fairs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — County fairs are no longer just a place to tour the midway and pat the prize pigs. They also are places you can register to vote.

Earlier in the summer, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown authorized county boards of elections in the 66 counties that have voter registration to conduct it at fairs.

A new law that becomes effective Sept. 27 permits registration at places charging admission.

Brown has estimated that more than 7 million Ohioans have the potential to become qualified voters for the November election because of changes in the election laws and local programs promoting registrations.

In 1970, the last gubernatorial election year, 3.87 million Ohioans living in registration counties qualified to vote. In 1972, a presidential year, 4.5 million residents of registration counties qualified. More than 3.2 million voted in 1970.

"This year, thanks to legislative changes and the responsiveness of the local boards of elections to help local residents become qualified voters we predict the number of registered electors and the actual voters on election day will reach a new high for a gubernatorial election year," Brown said.

Brown's office anticipates a 1974 registration of about 4 million and a vote total topping the 3.8 registration of 1970.

A good portion of the new voters will come from registrations at county fairs, Brown believes.

But, the main impetus will come from branch registrations, Jim Marsh, assistant secretary of state, believes. A change in election law permits election boards to maintain permanent or temporary branch offices any place in a county.

The Cuyahoga County Board of Elections in Cleveland plans special registrations at suburban city halls and at one location in each ward in the city for a one-day period.

This one-day drive will be in addition to Cuyahoga County's permanent branch program in 43 city halls and 33 library branches, Brown said.

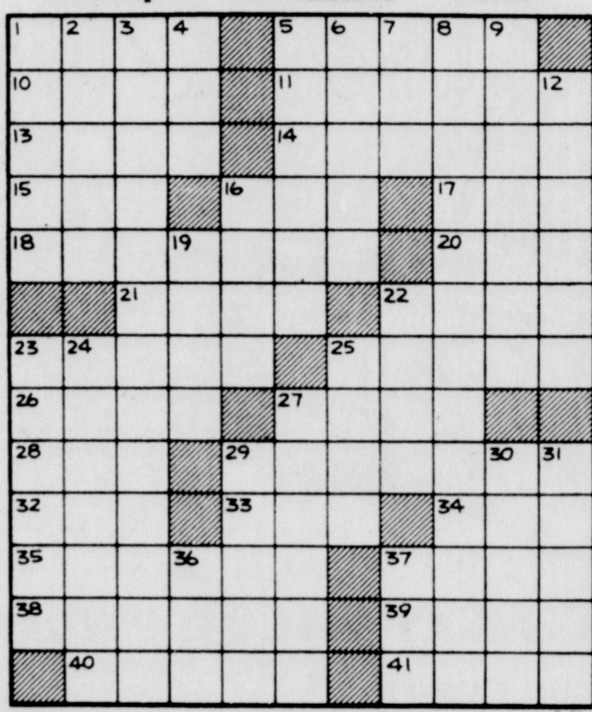

Franklin County plans a special drive at Columbus fire stations, and Hamilton County also has a thriving branch program.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
I S L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Co-worker's wife accuses her of adultery

DEAR ABBY: I am a 23-year-old married woman. I've never had an experience like this in all my life—that's why it's upsetting to me.

It all started when a co-worker, who must be in his late 40s, started kidding around at work and calling me his "girl friend." There was nothing to it. It was a joke. He recently had a 25th wedding anniversary and I sent him and his wife a card. When I was sick last year, he sent me a card.

Well, on evening last week, out of the blue I get a phone call from his wife. She started yelling and hollering and accusing me of having "an affair" with her husband. I was shocked. Then her husband took the phone away from her and apologized, saying she was having one of her "spells."

I avoided him at work. Last evening, she called again. This time my husband answered, and again she ranted and carried on about me and her husband. Finally, my husband hung up on her.

Abby, she sounds like a crazy woman. She could even kill me. I love my job but maybe I should quit. How should I handle this?

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: The woman is either disturbed or she drinks. (Maybe both.) Don't quit your job. There are laws to protect people against harassment of this kind. Have your lawyer write her a letter. (He'll know what to say.) That should do it.

DEAR ABBY: Neither my husband or I drink or smoke, and whenever we have a family gathering there is always some member of the family who brings a bottle of wine. In order not to hurt their feelings, we always open the bottle, but we never partake of it.

My husband and I do not like drinking in our home, so how do we tactfully get the idea across? These relatives read your column, so if this is printed, maybe they'll take the hint.

TWO TEETOTALERS

DEAR TWO: Don't count on it. Tell those who are to bring a bottle that when you want alcohol served in your home, you'll provide it. It's your home, so don't be bashful.

DEAR ABBY: About the 80-year-old man who looks like 60, loves to dance, and puts on a show wherever there's music, much to the embarrassment of his daughter:

My grandfather is 86. He talks too loud, scratches wherever he pleases (right in front of everyone), falls asleep in restaurants, and is always giving me advice.

He also diapered me when I was a baby, taught me how to fish, hugged me no matter how dirty I was, and loved me no matter how bad I was.

That old man can do anything he wants to do as long as I have anything to say about it!

And when he dies, I'll cry. Not because the end will have come for a man who has had a full and beautiful life, but because no one else will see the twinkle in his eye.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "YEA OR NAY": NAY! The most underpaid and abused people in the world are NOT waiters and waitresses—they are our elected officials. Contrary to what many believe, there is not one truly dedicated Congressman or Senator who wouldn't be better off financially doing something else.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Sept. 5, the 248th day of 1974. There are 117 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1774, the first Continental Congress assembled at Carpenter's Hall in Philadelphia.

On this date — In 1670, William Penn was arrested for holding a Quaker meeting in Grace Church Street in London.

In 1882, members of labor unions held the first Labor Day parade in the United States as 10,000 workmen marched in New York City with placards and banners.

In 1885, Jake Gumper of Fort Wayne, Ind., bought the first gasoline pump to be manufactured in the United States.

In 1905, the Treaty of Portsmouth, N. H., ended the Russo-Japanese war. In 1914, during World War I, German forces captured the French city of Rheims.

In 1939, the United States proclaimed neutrality in World War II.

Ten years ago: Typhoon Ruby killed more than 700 persons on the China mainland.

Five years ago: Atty. Gen. John Mitchell decided against prosecuting candidates and campaign committees that failed to comply with federal law on reporting their finances.

One year ago: John Ehrlichman and three other former White House aides were named defendants in the burglary of the office of the psychiatrist whose patients included Daniel Ellsberg, accused of leaking the Pentagon Papers.

Today's birthdays: Former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell is 61. Movie producer Daryl Zanuck is 72.

Thought for today: The main difference between men and women is that men are lunatics and women are idiots — British novelist Rebecca West.

AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC has formally commenced the new fall season on network TV with "That's My Mama," a situation comedy about a young, black bachelor swinger and his widowed mother in Washington, D.C. Wednesday night's scheduled commencement exercise, concerning issues of paternity and matrimony, wasn't the funniest effort ever rolled out for inspection, but at least it wasn't a rerun and showed sporadic signs of life.

It was performed before a live audience whose chuckles may have been electronically augmented, and featured some slightly funny lines, fairly good acting and mugging and fairly static direction.

At Scene 1, we quickly learned that Clifton Curtis — Clifton Davis — was a freespirt bachelor barber of 25 years and that his mother — Theresa Merritt — was urging him to settle down and get married.

Into his tenuous works came a young lady — Judy Pace — who claimed he'd left her with child during his Army days. In those days, she'd been waitressing at a bar near his old post at Ft. Dix, N.J.

"You're the daddy and you're going to marry me," said she.
"No, I'm not and no, I'm not," said he.

The neighborhood postman — Ed Bernard — an old Army buddy, subsequently recalled that our hero was very friendly with the waitress during a wild night at the bar.

The barber insisted he didn't cause the little shaver and that the villain could have been anyone in his old unit — even the postman.

Nay, said the letterman: "For one thing, I got a Good Conduct Medal." "For another," his pal retorts, "you got an Expert Marksman Medal."
Of such stuff is a laugh riot and a romp made these days.

Mama periodically checks in, generally to say "Mmmf," and look displeased. Then the "attorney" for the child's mother checks in to discuss things like marriage or a cash settlement.

Black market in Pasta flourishes

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Government indecision and hoarding by suppliers or housewives has turned pasta into a black market item in its homeland.

Stores are running out of spaghetti, macaroni and other varieties of the national staple.

"Naples is hungry — a Neapolitan tragedy," said the newspaper Il Mattino.

With inflation soaring, the Italian government has kept pasta on its list of special items whose prices are controlled. Because producers claimed they were not making a reasonable profit and were threatened with bankruptcy, the local government authorized a 45 per cent price hike, from 52 to 75 cents a pound.

Irate mothers and labor leaders protested, and the government ordered a rollback. But there was much expectation that the lower prices would not hold, and pasta disappeared from the stores and markets. Retailers were accused of hoarding and housewives of stocking up.

"Pasta was the only cheap thing there was," said Maria de Biase, a widow. "Now they want to cut that to pieces, too."

Carmela di Criscita says her husband, a construction worker, earns $5 a day and it all goes to buy pasta and bread for their 13 children.

The 2.5 million Neapolitans eat an average of 22 pounds of pasta a month, compared to 6.6 pounds in the industrial northern city of Turin. The Neapolitans say the local poverty of the city is one reason why they depend so heavily on pasta.

Fund distribution to states studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Distribution of federal highway funds to state governments was discussed Wednesday at a meeting in Washington between Ohio Transportation Director J. Phillip Riechley and Secretary of Transportation Claude S. Brinegar.

A spokesman for the state transportation department said the officials reviewed past allocation of federal highway funds and discussed possible procedures for achieving more equitable distribution to all states.

TV Viewing

Mama suspects foul play, urges her lad to propose marriage, and the whole caper comes apart at the diapher.

The barrister — Theodore Wilson — proves bogus, a flimflam man who really was the cook at the bar, the husband of the lady involved and the father of the child. He sighs when his dodge — or was it a desoto? — is revealed.

His exit line: "Washington, D.C., seemed so right for this kind of work, you know?"

Maybe so, but not without a larger subsidy from the Bureau of Scripts. The "That's My Mama" cast deserves it and quickly, lest the show's ratings fall so low divers have to phone in.

School personnel named in findings

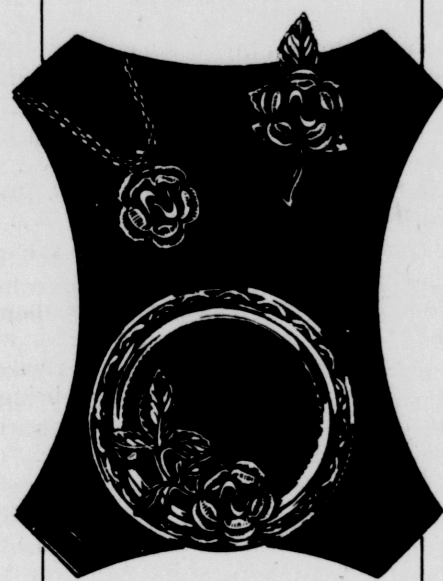

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state auditor is seeking 26 findings for recovery totaling $3,554.44 against various personnel of Lancaster city schools in Fairfield County.

The findings — ranging from $2.20 to $986 — were made in favor of the district.

Nine findings of unauthorized expenditures totaling $2,715.50 were returned against athletic director Richard England, the office said.

Found findings totaling $348 were returned against Robert D. Heffner, former clerk custodian of district activity programs, the auditor reported.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL F. JUNK

Miss Wackman, Mr. Junk exchange marriage vows

Miss Alexis Jeanne Wackman exchanged marriage vows with Paul Franklin Junk Aug. 17. Pastor Denny Howard performed the wedding ceremony in Fayette Bible Church, for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex U. Wackman 422 Broadway, and the son of Dr. and Mrs. D.R. Junk, 1973 U.S. 62NE.

Miss Kathryn Junk, sister of the groom, sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Marian Christopher played several nuptial selections on the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Wackman wore a gown of organza with Chantilly lace trim, pearls and ruffling. The empire waist had a bib of lace and cameo neckline. The bishop sleeves were cuffed with lace and ruffled at the wrists. The slightly full bordered skirt was edged in lace and tiny ruffles. She wore a matching mantilla bordered with lace and held in place with a pillbox headpiece. She carried a colonial bouquet of white sweetheart roses.

Miss Jane Ann Wackman was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a full-length gown of white dotted Swiss with empire waist, adorned with pink, yellow and blue flowers. She carried a basket of pink, yellow and white sweetheart roses.

Gary D. Junk of Columbus served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Richard Craig, friend of the groom, and Roger Littlejohn, brother-in-law of the groom.

Hostesses for the reception held at the home of the bride's parents were Mrs. David Wackman, sister-in-law of the bride, Miss Deborah Gilbert, Mrs.

Gary D. Junk, Mrs. David Moorehead and Mrs. Roger Littlejohn. Miss Kathryn Junk presided at the guest book.

Mrs. Wackman chose for her daughter's wedding a formal length A-line gown of pink polyester knit. She wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. Mrs. Junk wore a floor-length gown of blue with A-line styling and matching jacket. Her corsage was of yellow sweetheart roses.

When the newlyweds return from the New England states, they will reside at 678 Robinson Rd. The new Mrs. Junk, a graduate of Rio Grand College, is an elementary school teacher. Her husband, a graduate of Tri-State College, Angola, Ind., is assistant county engineer.

Mrs. Edith Mark and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Tracey had as their guests over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Stanley D. Mark Jr. of Williamsville, N.Y., and their children, Teresa, Kathy, Cinda, Steven, David and their guest, Bob Deres of Getzville, N.Y. They were joined for a picnic dinner and day by Bill Koontz of Washington C.H., Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Page and children Tracey, Mike and Marjorie of Cromwell, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. J. Vinton Wolfe of New Vienna, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hughes and daughters, Debora and Diana of New Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ankrom and children Anita, Keith and Pat of Columbus, and Chris Wingot of Indianapolis, Ind. Later in the afternoon they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stivers of Hillsboro. The day was spent at the Lions Club House in New Vienna.

Man's death in jail cell probed

WEBB, W. Va. (AP)—Pfc. Roland Salmons was buried with military honors here Wednesday. An army firing squad sent three volleys into the heavens and a lone bugler played taps over the flag-draped casket before it was lowered into the ground beside the community Church of God.

Frank Salmons was satisfied with the way his son was buried, but not with the way he died.

"I've been told so many things I don't know what to believe," he said Wednesday. "Some say he yelled, some said he didn't."

But the Army investigator told me my boy yelled and cried and hollered for help and nobody came."

Salmons' son was visiting his Wayne County home on leave from a Virginia Army camp when he was picked up on a drunk charge early last Sunday morning in the little Mingo County town of Kermit, some 15 miles from here. He died three hours later in a windowless cell with no jailer in attendance to answer his cries for help.

"I asked them why they left him alone," the elder Salmons said, "and they told me it was because they were short-handed. Why, I don't know yet what killed him. I don't even know if he was alive when they put him in there. I didn't even find out until eight hours after his death that he was dead. The authorities never even notified us, it was a man who owns a restaurant in Kermit that came by and told me."

According to state police trooper Gene Whisman, who investigated Salmons' death, the 25-year-old Vietnam veteran died of natural causes although the exact cause of death was still unknown pending an autopsy report.

Whisman said he interviewed three other men in the cell with Salmons and was told he had gone to sleep shortly after being put in the cell at 1 a.m. and had awakened about an hour later complaining of stomach pains. He said they told him Salmons died after suffering in agony for about two hours.

"They said they finally got the attention of a woman walking in front of the jail about 8:30 in the morning," the trooper recalled. "and told her to get help there's a dead man in here. But they said she told them 'that's none of my affair and walked away.'"

Kermit Mayor Bill Brewer said the town's long standing practice of leaving prisoners unattended during the night was a simple matter of economics.

"We have only one police officer," he said. "And besides, men have died in jails before . . . they've died in this one, in fact. If a man's going to die, he's going to die no matter where he is."

Brewer said he had talked with the men in Salmons' cell.

"Them boys told me he was all right when he went to sleep but that he woke up about two o'clock and said his stomach was killing him. They said he didn't say much after that."

Salmons' father had plenty to say, however.

"I just want the whole truth," he said. "And after we get through with this burial I'm going to investigate myself. My son isn't the first person to die in that cell."

Coal gasification no easy matter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Converting coal into gas could be a cure for energy-short industries, but the medicine may be hard for the patient to swallow.

A study by Battelle Memorial Institute concludes that it would not be a "simple task" for industries to convert to coal gasification. Conversion also would involve environmental side effects which must be solved, the study said.

Researchers David A. Ball and Abbott A. Putnam said major changes would have to be made in plant operations to use the process. Conversion would put some companies in the position of producing the energy needed to make their products, they said.

"High energy gas — essentially equivalent to natural gas — is the most expensive gas to make and therefore large consumers probably would not be interested," said Richard E. Barrett, a spokesman for Battelle.

"Intermediate and low energy gases have a lower energy content, and some industries are just not very adaptable."

Companies would have to modify their manufacturing operations to use a gas which "has one-third to one-sixth that of standard pipeline gas," the report said.

"This, in effect, would mean burning three to six times the amount of gas to get the same amount of heat," it concluded.

Environmentally, the process produces the problems of disposing of the ashes and controlling coal dust and potential air pollution could "well generate additional liquid and solid waste."

In addition, considerable land would be needed for coal storage and transportation facilities, as well as area required for the gasification plant itself.

"Coal gasification is a very future thing as opposed to right now," Barrett said. "There are very few gas processes that have demonstrated as commercially viable. Essentially none of them, at this point, have been demonstrated to be economical and substantially reliable."

Janitor opens teaching career

By DAVID TREADWELL
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John Dooley started teaching fifth grade Wednesday — one week to the day after he stepped out of his job as night janitor at the Columbus public school headquarters.

"I was pretty uptight at first in front of the classroom," said the 35-year-old Dooley, "but the day went very well. I was pretty well over the jitters by the time the kids had their first recess."

Other than that, Dooley said, his transition from janitor to teacher in the same school system went smoothly.

"I spent a lot of time preparing," he said. "The night before school opened I even had my wife and children helping me put up bulletin boards and getting textbooks ready."

Dooley used his Horatio Alger-type story to break the ice with his class of 30 at Lindbergh elementary school.

"I told them about how I had spent my summer working as a custodian at night and finishing up college during the day," he said.

Dooley was hired as a night janitor nine years ago. Four years ago, spurred by his enjoyment in teaching a Sunday school class, he decided to become a grade school teacher.

"I just like kids," he said. "You can tell that because I've got four of my own."

He entered Ohio State University in 1970 and received his diploma in elementary education at last Friday's commencement.

"It was pretty hard, going to school and working night," Dooley said. "If it wasn't for the encouragement I got at home and from the guys I worked with, I wonder if I'd have made it."

As a teacher, Dooley stands somewhere between the progressive and traditional schools of education.

"I'm sold on individualizing learning experiences for kids," he said. "At the same time, I feel they need to know the three R's. I think you must also have firm discipline in the classroom to have a good learning environment."

Dooley looks forward to a successful teaching career.

"I hope I'm over the jitters," he said. "Maybe not completely, but I don't know."

Byrd widow succumbs

BOSTON (AP) — Marie Byrd, 85, widow of famed explorer Adm. Richard E. Byrd Sr. and the woman for whom Marie Byrd Land in Antarctica was named, died Wednesday. Mrs. Byrd, a member of Boston's Beacon Hill society, actively supported her husband's explorations and after his death in 1957 devoted herself to organizing his papers and collections and opening them to the public.

Milk price rise seen for farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says dairy farmers can expect milk prices to go up again soon after declining seasonally this summer.

The "blend" price for all types of milk averaged $7.62 per 100 pounds in August, up slightly from July but still well below the $8.94 average last March.

"Milk prices will likely be increasing seasonally this fall and winter," the department's Outlook and Situation Board said Wednesday in a preliminary report on the dairy situation.

Wholesale market prices for butter and cheese strengthened in late July and August after sinking to the government's price support level last spring. Nonfat dry milk prices continue at the support level, the report said.

Officials said retail prices of dairy products, which dropped in June and July—the first month-to-month decline in nearly two years — may go up seasonally later this year although the increases are not expected to match the big gains of last fall and winter.

Imports of dairy products during the first seven months of 1974 were equivalent to about two billion pounds of milk, nearly double the 1.1 billion imported in January-July last year, the report said.

"The increase was concentrated in the early part of 1974, when temporary increases in some import quotas were in effect," the report said.

"All of the quota changes have expired, and imports are again at a more normal level," the report said. "This year's import total is expected to be less than in 1973, but above the average of recent years."

As it has indicated before, total U.S. milk production is expected to be down about 1.5 per cent this year from 1973 output of 115.6 billion pounds.

Grand jury indicts three

Suspended sentence meted

A former office employee of the Buckeye Mart store entered a plea of no contest and has been sentenced on a charge of grand theft in connection with her employment, and the September term of the Fayette County grand jury has returned indictments against three other individuals.

Dianne Jackson, 25, of 624 Gibbs Ave. was sentenced to a term of six months to five years at the Women's Reformatory at Marysville by Fayette County Common Pleas Court Judge Evelyn W. Coffman.

However, the sentence was suspended and Ms. Jackson was placed on three-year probation. One aspect of the terms of probation is that she must make $2,000 restitution to the firm.

Ms. Jackson was employed in the office as a bookkeeper where she had apparently adjusted the records to conceal the conversion of corporate funds to her own use.

THE SEPTEMBER term of the grand jury has returned indictments against an alleged forger in addition to the two men charged by Fayette County Sheriff's deputies with breaking into the Lakewood Sportsman, CCC Highway-W.

Lewis E. Wilson, 20, of Washington C.H., was indicted on two counts of forgery for allegedly signing checks from the checkbook of the woman with whom he boarded.

Wilson was arrested Aug. 13 for checks allegedly forged in July. The arrest followed an extensive investigation conducted jointly by Sheriff's deputies and city police.

Roy A. Green, 29, of Montgomery, and Ronnie H. Jones, 28, of Dayton, were indicted on charges of breaking and entering, and grand larceny. They were reported to have been caught "red-handed" by Sheriff's Sgt. John Emrick and auxiliary deputy J.D. Dray while the two were on a routine patrol Aug. 30.

While checking area buildings during the early morning hours of Aug. 30, Emrick and Dray observed the window of the Lakewood Sportsman, broken out and Green standing nearby. Jones was discovered inside the building, and both were taken into custody.

According to the Sheriff's department, some $6,000 worth of firearms were lying on the ground outside the building. The list of arms included shotguns, rifles and handguns.

The aborted theft had been preceded by a similar theft less than a week earlier.

Report airplane had come apart

McCONNELSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A Federal Aviation Administration official said Wednesday that a plane which crashed and killed six persons near this Morgan County community Sunday was apparently torn apart in the air.

J. A. Twaddle, chief of the FAA's general aviation district, said a preliminary study revealed the plane was damaged before hitting the ground.

He said a final report on the crash would not be filed for several months.

Air turbulence or excessive speed were cited by Twaddle as the usual reasons a plane falls apart in the air.

Judge revokes bond for murder suspect

WILMINGTON — An initial appearance hearing was held Wednesday in Wilmington Municipal Court for Ronald Dunn, 32, of Sabina, who is charged with aggravated murder in connection with the Aug. 11 death of his wife.

Municipal Court Judge Frank B. Jandes revoked Dunn's bond and scheduled Sept. 13 as a preliminary hearing date.

Dunn had been held in Clinton County jail in lieu of $20,000 on an attempted aggravated murder charge, but Dunn's wife, Betty, 31, died last Thursday of injuries she received when her car exploded at S. College and W. Washington streets in Sabina. He is presently being held without bond.

Dunn has been in custody since Aug. 17 on an attempted murder charge. The aggravated murder charge was filed Tuesday.

Clinton County sheriff's deputies said their department, Sabina police and the state fire marshal's office have been investigating the case.

Officials did not say what might have triggered the explosion. Mrs. Dunn was severely burned over 90 per cent of her body. She died in Cincinnati General Hospital.

Find white smokers can't tolerate pain as easily

CHICAGO (AP) — Whites who smoke have less ability to tolerate pain than white nonsmokers, a California study has found.

But no significant difference was found between black and Oriental smokers and nonsmokers.

The study involved 66,410 subjects examined in the Kaiser Permanente health screening program at Oakland, Calif. It is reported in the September issue of the Archives of Environmental Health, published by the American Medical Association.

Authors of the study are Dr. Carl C. Seltzer of the Harvard School of Public Health, Boston, and Dr. Gary D. Friedman, Abraham B. Siegel and Dr. Morris F. Collen of the Permanente Medical Group.

They wrote that explanations for the differences in pain tolerance "are not clear at this time."

They suggested that "the possible role of constitutional differences between smokers and nonsmokers should be considered as well as other explanations."

Previously, the researchers reported that they had found that pain tolerance decreased with age, men tolerated more pain than women, whites more than Orientals and that the pain tolerance of blacks fell between that of whites and Orientals.

Their latest study found that there was a decrease in pain tolerance among both white male and female smokers and at every age level.

Similar differences were found among black and Oriental male and female smokers, but not to a significant degree, the researchers said.

Traffic Court

Six persons were scheduled to appear in Municipal Court Wednesday on traffic charges. Three did appear and pleaded guilty, the other three forfeited bond.

Graham O. Campbell, 19, Fort Campbell, Ky., was fined $28 for speeding. He has been cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Dean L. Penrod, 24, Jeffersonville, was fined $25 for reckless operation, and Lonnie L. Ayers, 31 U.S. 62-N was fined $20 for failing to yield the right of way. Both were cited by Sheriff's deputies.

Forfeiting bond were Rocky J. Martindill, 18, Creek Rd., $20, defective exhaust; Paul E. Jones, 44, of 717 Vine St., $35, speeding; and Robert J. Berning, 23, of 519 Kennedy Ave., $35, failing to display license plates.

Judge won't throw out indictments

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A Fulton County judge has refused to throw out five indictments against the accused slayer of Mrs. Martin Luther King Sr., or to hear a pretrial motion for suppression of an alleged confession.

Defense attorneys for Marcus Wayne Chenault had requested that the indictments be dismissed because they were too vague and indefinite. But Superior Court Judge Luther Alverson ruled that the trial, which begins before him Monday, should proceed.

He said he would consider suppression of the alleged confession after the jury has been seated.

Chenault, 23, a Dayton, Ohio, resident, is charged with two counts of murder, one of aggravated assault and two of illegally carrying pistols.

Mrs. Alberta W. King Sr., the 69-year-old mother of assassinated civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was fatally shot as she finished playing "the Lord's Prayer" on the church organ during services at Ebenezer Baptist Church June 30. Edward Boykin, a church deacon, also was slain, and a third person was wounded.

Fulton County Sheriff Leroy Stynchcombe said several threats on Chenault's life have prompted extraordinary strict security measures for the trial.

Chenault's attorney, Randy Bacote, said he would present numerous motions, including a request for a change of venue. Bacote contends the King family's prominence in Atlanta precludes the finding of an unbiased jury.

Waldheim returns to U.N. office

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (A) — U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim has returned to his office for the first time in 18 days, following a tour of eight countries and a bout with a stomach ailment.

The 55-year-old Austrian statesman came down with gastric enteritis when he returned home from the 11-day trip. He spent a week convalescing in a New York hospital and at home.

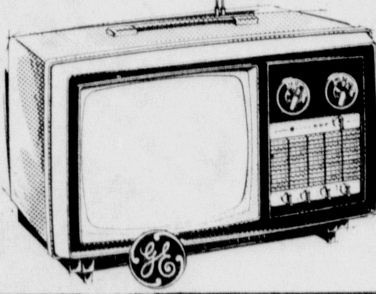

Returning to his office Wednesday, he met with U.S. Ambassador John Scali and Soviet Ambassador Jacob Malik to discuss his visits last month to Cyprus, Greece and Turkey.

Farm Bureau women plan district rally

The Fayette County Farm Bureau women's committee elected new officers and completed plans for the 20-county Farm Bureau district women's rally to be held here Sept. 24 during the committee meeting held recently in the Landmark conference room.

Mrs. Arthur Schaefer was named president; Mrs. Dwight Duff, vice president, and Mrs. John Peterson, secretary.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Wayne Hidy, immediate past president. Further plans were made for the farm-oriented presentation the women's committee is photographing locally.

It was announced that tickets for the district women's rally will be distributed shortly. Because of the small quota of tickets distributed to each of the participating district counties, tickets for the event may be ordered by contacting Mrs. Hidy or Mrs. Schaefer.

The women's committee meetings will be held the first Tuesday of each month at 1:30 p.m. in the Landmark building.

Rare cat born at zoo

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The birth of a rare Pampas Cat, a species threatened by extinction, was recorded Wednesday at the Cincinnati Zoo.

The all-black kitten was one of two born. The other was quickly killed by the father, a zoo official said.

The breed has all but disappeared from its native Paraguay, Uruguay and Argentina, according to Barry Wakeman, director of education at the zoo.

The Pampas Cat cub will grow to the approximate size of a household cat. Wakeman said the births mean the zoo could be nominated for the rare birth award presented by the American Association of Zoos and Aquariums.

The zoo, second oldest in the nation, already holds the world record for lowland gorilla births.

Inflation solutions pose problems

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — There is no lack of problems for President Ford's inflation fighters to consider, but there is likely to be a shortage of practical, immediately effective options.

There is, for example, the whole vast area of government regulation to consider, the operation of occupational health and safety laws, regulations limiting competition, product safety rules, ecological restraints.

Do these activities of the various governmental agencies raise prices? It cannot be denied — they do. The question that the public and public officials must decide is the price they are willing to pay for them.

The chairman of General Motors, Richard C. Gerstenberg, claims that automobile buyers would save $30 to $40 if the government permitted cars to be sold without ignition interlocks, which prevent movement if seat belts aren't attached.

Gerstenberg maintains GM is willing to lower prices if it is permitted to eliminate costly safety and pollution-control equipment. As it is, the big auto maker is likely to raise prices again before many months pass.

The dilemma in this and similar situations is whether to sacrifice the quality of life and environment for lower prices. Proponents of a better life quality have maintained the dominant position in recent years, but there are signs of deterioration.

The Alaska pipeline project, for example, was delayed for many months until the Mideast nations suddenly restricted oil exports and raised prices — and in the process convinced Congress to let Alaskan oil flow south.

Some critics maintain that price-reducing competition is actually restrained rather than encouraged by some government regulations. Only a large, mature company with an extensive legal staff can cope with regulations, they say.

One of the most frequent complaints from small-business men concerns the reams of paper work with which they must contend, sometimes spending hours on chores that should have been devoted to more productive tasks.

In the capital markets, where regulations proliferate, only a few small, aggressive, innovative companies have been financed in recent months. Without the competition of such entrepreneurial enterprises, the critics say, the existing companies can afford to be less efficient than they should be.

More open restrictions on competition exist in many industries, notably air travel. Should rates be regulated and routes apportioned? Or should a free-for-all be permitted to see which line is the most efficient?

In the interest of efficiency and competition, the Ford inflation examiners might inspect franchising and licensing arrangements. Should cars be sold through exclusive dealers — or through automotive supermarkets that carry all brands?

And how much does gimmickry cost the public? Does the new, improved package with the automatic pour spout add to the price of the product? Does it even work? And how much do useless guarantees add to prices?

Corn crop delayed by cool weather

WASHINGTON (AP) — The weather-torn corn crop, delayed by muddy fields last spring and hit by drought this summer, now is being held up by unseasonably cool weather in parts of the Midwest, the Agriculture Department says.

"Subnormal temperatures over much of the Corn Belt slowed maturity of the already late corn crop," USDA said Wednesday. "Freezing temperatures during the weekend hit parts of the western Corn Belt, causing damage in several areas."

But the department, in a report, said rains last week helped add to soil moisture in much of the nation's midsection where drought earlier wilted prospects for record corn output.

Although the rain helped later-maturing soybeans, the cool weather slowed that crop's growth in most Corn Belt areas. In Illinois only 85 per cent of the soybeans had set pods by the weekend, compared with 97 per cent usually on the date. Iowa's soybean crop was 90 per cent in the pod stage, compared with 94 per cent on the average.

The department will issue new corn and other crop estimates on Sept. 11, based on field surveys the first of the month. Corn production based on Aug. 1 conditions was estimated at less than 4.97 billion bushels, down 12 per cent from last year's record.

Although some areas may show improvement from Aug. 1 indications because of recent rains, USDA officials say they do not expect significant changes over-all for 1974 corn prospects. The rain, however, could improve yields somewhat for soybeans.

"Rain is needed to assure good fall and winter grazing," the report said.

Workshop set here Sept. 18

Mitchell to speak at watershed meeting

COLUMBUS — Adelle Mitchell, environmental ombudsman for the Ohio Department of Natural Resources and the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, will be the first of four state officials to speak at a watershed planning workshop to be conducted September 18 at the Fayette County Fairgrounds.

The watershed workshop is being sponsored by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources and the Ohio Federation of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

Other state officials scheduled to participate in the watershed workshop include Gene Abercrombie, director of the Ohio Department of Agriculture; William Mattox, assistant deputy director of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources' office of planning and research, and Dr. Richard A. Tubb, professor of geology and natural resources at Ohio State University.

PRIOR to the workshop, an optional "drive-it-yourself" tour of two watershed projects will be offered. Beginning at 9:30 a.m., the tour will feature nine stops along the way to examine various aspects of stream modification.

Guides at each of the stops will assist those on the tour and answer questions about the watersheds. An information booth will be set up at a Sohio service station near the junction of I-71 and Ohio 38.

The two watershed projects to be toured include the Upper Paint Creek Watershed in Clark, Madison and Fayette counties and the Rattlesnake Creek Watershed in Clark, Clinton, Fayette, Fayette, Highland and Madison counties.

Registration for the afternoon workshop will be from 2:30 until 3 p.m. at the Mahan Building on the Fayette County Fairgrounds.

Pilot error seen possible crash cause

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The possibility of pilot error is being investigated in the plane crash that killed three persons Tuesday, including the nation's first husband-wife nursing team to serve in the Vietnam War.

Federal authorities said the discovery of a plane wing 3,000 feet from the crash site could indicate extreme stress due to overreaction from the pilot.

Piloting the light aircraft was Robert A. Williams, 37, a hospital administrator from Floydada, Tex. Killed with him was his wife, Barbara, 29, and their two-month-old son Jeffrey.

The couple drew attention in 1966 when the military allowed them to break tradition and serve together in a rugged mountain outpost in Vietnam. They were visiting Cincinnati to show their new son to Mrs. Williams' parents.

E.J. McAvoy, investigator for the National Transportation and Safety Board, Chicago, said preliminary indications failed to turn up any signs of mechanical failure.

He said there was no evidence of an explosion or fire. Witnesses saw the plane break up shortly after takeoff from the suburban Blue Ash Airport.

McAvoy said there was a strong possibility Williams may have experienced "special disorientation," a common problem in crashes involving private planes.

He said pilots not familiar with instruments become confused when flying into clouds and overcast.

"They pull back on the stick," he said, forcing stress on the wings.

The result, he said, is a tear in the outer fabric, causing the skin of the wing to expand "like a balloon and explode."

He said the plane wing had exploded.

Cincy may gain new hospital

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati could gain a new hospital as a result of an incorporation agreement signed Wednesday by two orders of Roman Catholic nuns.

The agreement calls for a new complex called St. Francis—St. George Hospital. It would be built in southwestern Hamilton County.

Policemen, liquor agents are indicted

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Two Cleveland policemen and two state Liquor Department investigators were among six persons indicted Wednesday by a Cuyahoga County grand jury on 182 counts of bribery.

The six were charged with taking $5,675 in payoffs from bar and delicatessen owners in the last 3½ years.

Prosecutors claimed the money was paid for protection against arrests for liquor-law violations.

The police officers named in the indictment were Sgt. Lawrence Hernandez, 45, and Columbus Brown, 38, both of Cleveland. Hernandez is a 15-year veteran; Brown has been with the department nine years.

The investigators were identified in the charges as Maurice Owens of Oberlin and Mark Smith of Canton.

Accused as codefendants were bail bondsman Sonny Wilcox, 39, and sales representative Robert Witbeck, both of Cleveland.

Police Chief Gerald Rademaker said the patrolmen would be suspended today or given allowed to use accumulated overtime pending the outcome of their trials.

Hernandez, Wilcox and Witbeck denied the charges. Brown, Owens and Smith could not be reached.

Phone suit dismissed

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A court test of the nation's first phone company to charge for directory assistance failed Wednesday when a lower court judge dismissed the suit.

Cincinnati Bell, Inc., won the case when visiting Judge Paul Riley ruled that the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court lacked jurisdiction over public utilities.

Four persons claimed that the phone company's move in March to charge 20 cents a call after the third directory assistance call each month has damaged their professional work.

Riley dismissed the case on the grounds that the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO) has exclusive jurisdiction over company rates. Cincinnati Bell had received approval from PUCO to institute the charges.

Riley said the only appeal of a PUCO decision would have to be to the Ohio Supreme Court.

The suit was filed by Dr. I. Leonard Bernstein; Mrs. Julane L. Katz, a dentist's wife, and attorneys James R. Hartke and Kenneth B. Baylen.

Dressmaker succumbs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elizabeth Courtney, 69, one of Hollywood's leading dressmakers for nearly half a century, died Wednesday of cancer. Mrs. Courtney's customers included Susan Hayward, Judy Holiday, Shirley MacLaine, Marilyn Monroe, Kim Novak and Elizabeth Taylor.

Washington opens at Bishop Ready

Lions put winning streak on line

BY LARRY WATTS
Record-Herald Sports Editor
For the Blue Lions, 1973 is history. The Class AA state championship, trophies and individual honors are now only memories, as Washington Court House prepares to launch its 1974 campaign at Bishop Ready, Friday evening.

However, the Lions' winning streak continues to remain in the spotlight. With a victory over the Silver Knights, Washington will set a new record for consecutive victories. Court House has captured 14 straight games, which ties the mark held by the 1951-52 teams. The present victory skein began in 1972.

Gone are 20 seniors and 15 three-year lettermen. To replace the graduation losses are nine returning lettermen.

With only 10 seniors on the squad, Lion mentor Maurice Pfeifer will have to count on the underclassmen,, especially the juniors, for a lot of help. There are 20 juniors and 14 sophomores on this year's team.

"I do not believe in a rebuilding year," remarked Pfeifer, who has only one starter returning on offense and three starters returning on defense. "We have a tremendous winning tradition and we expect to be in the thick of the South Central Ohio League race."

"Looking at Bishop Ready is like looking at ourselves in a mirror," the Washington coach added. "They are also quite small and exceptionally quick."

Fourth-year coach Jim Long has 10 returning lettermen. All 10 of the let-termen started last season, but only six started in the Lions' 21-0 victory. Last year's meeting was the first between the two schools. In the contest, the Lions held the Silver Knights total offense to 31 yards.

Although Long is in the midst of a rebuilding program, he feels that his team has finally arrived. Half of his 50-member squad are sophomores. The Knights were 1-8 last season.

Probable starting quarterback Steve Hackett and backup signal caller Craig Bland are expected to give the Lions' secondary a real test in the opener.

Both quarterbacks are regarded to have good arms and they have some outstanding receivers to throw to.

Offensively, the Knights operate out of the Power-I. Tailback Kevin Elgin has outstanding quickness, if Ready does a lot of running.

Defensively, the Knights are regraded as excellent hitters. With their quickness, they can pursue real well.

"I have been impressed with the poise our boys have shown," Pfeifer remarked. "The blocking of the players has improved tremendously. Because of the size of our defensive line, I expect to see a lot more teams trying to bring the ball right at us instead of around us."

"I think the outcome of the game will depend on how far our kicking game has come along," said Pfeifer, who puts kicking at the top of his priority list. "Our kicking has been a question mark so far. At this time, it is as good as can be expected; but it is not good enough to be a consistent winner."

"Football is an organizational thing," he noted. "It is just a case of execution. However, the average fan does not see this."

"One of the biggest problems with an inexperienced team is that the kids do not talk enough to each other," Pfeifer noted. "It will come as the season goes along. Experience can not be taught."

Fullback Larry Dumford is the only returning starter on offense. The remainder of the lineup will consist of: David Thompson, tight end; Kevin Pfeifer and Dan Dean, tackles; John Anders and Brian Haines, guards; Jim Rannels, center; Jeff Brown, quarter-back; Leroy Wilson, tailback; and Jim Vess, halfback. The messenger split ends will be Dewey Foster and Mark Lamberson.

Dumford, who is a linebacker, Richard Haithecock at tackle and invert

Gilbert Sparkman return on defense. Other starters will be: Doug McCune and Tim O'Flynn, ends; Anders, tackle; Haines and Greg Huysman, guards; Vess and Gardner, halfbacks; and Foster, invert.

On offense, Dumford, Brown, Vess and Anders are the only seniors. The remainder of the starting lineup are juniors, except for Wilson. Wilson, is a sophomore. His older brother, Chuck, raced for over 1500 yards and scored 184 points last season.

The defense also finds four seniors, while the rest are all juniors. The four seniors are Dumford, Vess, Anders and Sparkman.

Game directions

Those wanting to see the Lions play at Bishop Ready should take I-71 to the Frank Road exit. Turn left on Frank Road, which becomes Cline Road, and cross the Old CCC Highway. Turn right at the first traffic light (Demorest Road). The school is on the left along Demorest Road.

In order to get to Northeastern for Miami Trace's game, take Ohio 41N to Ohio 54, just north of South Charleston. Turn right on Ohio 54 and follow to Bowman Road, which is just before the I-70W overpass, and turn right. The school is located on Bowman Road.

The Dallas Cowboys and Washington Redskins remain the class teams in the Eastern Division of the National Football Conference, but if Bill Bergey does as much for Philadelphia's defense as Roman Gabriel did for its offense, the Eagles could pull a surprise.

Dallas and Washington, proven quantities, are showing signs of wavering. George Allen's "Over the Hill Gang" of Redskins is one year further over that hill, while the World Football League has made considerable inroads into the talented cast of Cowboys.

Which lends hope to the other clubs in the NFC East — and of the three, the Eagles seem to be more likely to challenge than the St. Louis Cardinals or New York Giants.

Dallas Cowboys
The Cowboys have as much talent as ever, but morale could be a problem. The WFL has captured a host of Dallas stars to future contracts, and how well these lame ducks perform could be a key to the season.

"I want them to help us win the Super Bowl," Coach Tom Landry said. "If they are willing to do that, then they're acceptable to me."

By the same token, Landry is not about to make exceptions. Wide receiver Otto Stowe had been a lame duck, but when Landry felt he was not going all-out in preseason practice, he was released.

Another WFL future, running back-receiver Mike Montgomery, is gone, but six prominent ones remain: Calvin Hill, Rayfield Wright, Pat Toomay, Jethro Pugh, D.D. Lewis and Craig Morton.

Roger Staubach is entrenched as the No. 1 quarterback, while Hill, a 1,000-yard gainer in 1973, heads a fine crop of backs that includes stumpy Robert Newhouse and dependable Walt Garrison. Despite the loss of Stowe, there's no shortage of receivers with Bob Hayes, Drew Pearson and Golden Richards at the wide spots and Billy Joe DuPree and Jean Fugett at tight end.

The offensive line is solid, as is the entire defensive unit, which has been bolstered by Ed "Too Tall" Jones, a defensive end from Tennessee State who was the No. 1 draft pick in the NFL this year and who should break into the starting lineup.

New York Giants
Bill Arnsparger, former chief aide to Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, inherited a host of questions when he took over as head coach of the New York Giants. Going into the final week of preseason, Arnsparger estimated that 13 starting jobs still were up for grabs and added, "Some of those decisions will go down to the wire."

Norm Snead is the No. 1 quarterback, but he's coming off a disappointing season. Veteran Randy Johnson has ability but is committed to the WFL next year.

Ron Johnson is a proven star at running back, and Charlie Evans returns at fullback. Among the newcomers, Doug Kotar has been most impressive.

Tight end Bob Tucker is the best of a good crop of receivers, while rookies John Hicks and Tom Mullen have moved into the starting offensive line and should improve throughout the season.

Defensively, Arnsparger still is feeling his way. End Jack Gregory and tackle John Mendenhall are two solid linemen, but the other spots are wide open. And going into the final week of the exhibition season, assorted combinations of linebackers and secondary personnel still were being tested.

Philadelphia Eagles
Coach Mike McCormack calls Gabriel, the quarterback obtained from the Los Angeles Rams, the "catalyst" who made the Eagles' offense one of the most potent in the league last season.

Unfortunately, the sieve-like defense allowed a whopping 393 points. But McCormack feels he may have the solution to that problem in Bergey, a talented middle linebacker obtained from Cincinnati.

"That's like the 'plunk' in a pool," said McCormack. "It makes Steve Zabel and Dean Halverson (the other linebackers) better."

McCormack hopes the defensive unit will coalesce around Bergey and star free safety Bill Bradley. He doesn't have many worries about the offense.

Gabriel proved last year that there was considerable mileage left in his passing arm. For targets, he has Harold Carmichael, tops in the NFL last year with 67 catches, and tight end Charley Young. Leading the running backs in Tom Sullivan, one of football's most productive performers last year with 968 yards rushing plus 50 receptions.

St. Louis Cardinals
Coach Don Coryell likes a wide-open offense, and the Cards have the tools for it. Unfortunately, the defense looks equally wide-open.

Jim Hart is the incumbent at quarter-back; he has all the tools, but Cards fans still are waiting for him to put them all together. In the off-season,

Throwing error costs Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Manager Preston Gomez repeated history in the Astros' 2-1 loss to Cincinnati Wednesday night and the result was the same—a loss for his team.

Astros' starter Don Wilson, who pitched a no-hitter against Cincinnati in 1969, had another no-hitter through eight innings Wednesday night until Gomez pulled him for a pinch hitter and Wilson ended up the loser.

Across the field in the Reds' dugout, pitcher Clay Kirby recalled a situation at San Diego when Gomez was his manager in 1970. Gomez then the Padres' skipper, pulled Kirby with a no-hitter after eight innings and Gomez' team lost that one, too.

"You have to do the best you can and forget the record," Gomez said. "This was not one of my toughest decisions. The name of the game is to win. 'He (Wilson) pitched a hell of a game.'"

Gomez was greeted with a chorus of boos from the sparse crowd of 8,024 when he lifted Wilson for pinch hitter Tommy Helms in the eighth inning. Helms grounded out.

"The fans didn't bother me," Gomez said. "They wanted it (the no-hitter.) But I get paid for winning the ball game, not for no-hitters."

Gomez' decision backfired in the top of the ninth when Astros reliever Mike Cosgrove yielded Cincinnati's first hit of the game, a single up the middle by Tony Perez.

Pony football drive

The ticket membership drive for Pony League Football will be from 9 a.m. until noon this Saturday. All of the boys will meet at the Paint Street entrance of Washington Junior High at 9 a.m. and canvass the area from that point.

This Saturday is also the last day a boy can sign up for the football program. All fifth and sixth grade Fayette County boys are eligible to participate in the program.

Softball tournament

There will be a Class B softball tournament in Eyman Park on September 14 and 15. Entry fee is $45 and the drawing will be held in the park on September 12 at 7 p.m. For further information, contact Chester Estep (335-1985) or Gary Merriman (948-2460).

"Gomez just tried to keep them from winning," Cosgrove said. "I'm sure he (Wilson) is disturbed about things."

All three runs in the game were unearned. Cincinnati got its two winning runs in the fifth inning when Pete Rose hit a grounder to shortstop Roger Metzger.

Metzger threw wild to first base and Cesar Geronimo and George Foster, both walked by Wilson, scored.

Houston's run came in the seventh when Darrell Chaney bobbled a grounder hit by Cliff Johnson allowing Milt May to score.

Almost lost in the uproar of Wilson's near no-hitter was the solid seven-hit pitching of Jack Billingham, who became the National League's first pitcher to win 18 games this season.

Kirby, more than anyone else, knew how Wilson felt.

"I had pitched eight innings of no-hit ball," he said, recalling the 1970 game. "With two out in the bottom of the eighth, he (Gomez) called me back. It didn't come to me at the time. I had no words with him about it."

Cosgrove took Perez to a full count before yielding the Reds' first hit of the game.

"I hit a tailing fastball and I broke my bat on it," Perez said. "It wasn't my pitch. I think it might have been a ball."

Cincinnati's only other scoring threat against Wilson, now 10-11, came in the fourth when Joe Morgan walked, stole second and took third on Johnny Bench's grounder.

Elsewhere in the National League, Los Angeles beat San Francisco 6-3 in 11 innings, St. Louis edged Montreal 5-4, Atlanta beat San Diego 5-3 and New York defeated Chicago 4-2.

Wilson, 10-11, lost the game when Metzger threw wildly past first on a routine grounder by Pete Rose in the fifth inning, allowing Cesar Geronimo and George Foster to score from second and third.

Dodgers 6, Giants 3

Jimmy Wynn's three-run homer in the 11th inning powered the Dodgers to victory, maintaining their 2½-game lead over Cincinnati in the NL West. The Dodgers and Reds open a crucial three-game set in Cincinnati Friday night.

Yankees tie Boston for AL East lead

New York Yankees are red hot. The Boston Red Sox are red-faced. Their individual predicaments have given some color to the American League East race.

The Yankees won their 16th game in 20 Wednesday with a 3-0 decision over the Milwaukee Brewers and climbed into a first-place tie with failing Boston in the East.

The embarrassed Red Sox made the tie possible by losing a 6-0 decision to the Baltimore Orioles, their sixth straight loss and their ninth in the last 11 games.

The win moved the thirdplace Orioles within two games of the top.

Jim Palmer and Earl Williams combined to pace Baltimore's victory over the stumbling Red Sox.

Palmer, back on the active roster less than a month after 54 days on the disabled list, hurled a three-hitter. Williams, who has hit eight of his 13 home runs since Aug. 1, clubbed two solo homers and drove in three runs.

Yankees 3, Brewers 0

George "Doc" Medich pitched a five-hitter and retired 15 straight batters at one point to pace New York's victory. Lou Piniella doubled home the first of two runs in the first inning as the Yankees beat nemesis Kevin Kobel.

Indians 5, Tigers 4

Pinch-hitter Rico Carty's runscore single in the eighth inning off Detroit relief ace John Hiller carried Cleveland past Detroit. With the score tied at 4-4, John Ellis led off the eighth with a single off Hiller, 16-10.

After Jack Brohamer hit into a forceout, Buddy Bell laced a single to third, Brohamer taking third. Carty then batted for Tom McCraw and singled to left, bringing home Brohamer with the winning run.

White Sox 7, Royals 0

Jim Kaat fired a four-hitter and the Chicago White Sox erupted for six runs and seven hits in the fifth inning to beat Kansas City. Paul Splittorff was the loser.

Angels 5, A's 2

Bob Oliver drove in two runs with a double and single to lead California over Oakland. Oliver doubled to drive in Bobby Valentine and then scored himself as the Angels scored twice off losing pitcher Vida Blue in the second inning.

Rangers 1, Twins 0

Ferguson Jenkins blanked Minnesota on seven hits for his 21st win and sixth shutout of the season, pitching Texas over the Twins.

In Focus

by Charlie Pensyl

Quite a few years ago three hundred Spartans and a handful of others stood fast in the pass at Thermopylae and changed the course of ancient history. The indictment of the members of the Ohio National Guard over the Kent State thing back in May, 1970 has created a Thermopylae for the citizens of Ohio. You will remember that the duly constituted Ohio grand jury, after carefully considering all evidence, saw fit to refuse to indict any Guardsman and thereby to exonerate all of them. What gives now?

Who put the pressure on whom to keep hitting these kids with charges? Why was the original Ohio grand jury report, exonerating the Guardsmen and indicting Communist agitators, "students," and "professors," never made public?

There is a pamphlet by Alan Stang, "Kent State - Proof To Save The Guardsmen," that gives the story on the Kent State thing. For more good factual info on the subject you might write to our Congressman, Mr. William Harsha, and ask for his news release on the Kent State shooting. Mr. Harsha's Kent State article is right on target and fits right in with the Stang reprint. Now if Mr. Stang and Mr. Harsha are right, the indictment of these young Guardsmen is something that every citizen in Ohio should really be hot about. Buy the Stang pamphlet or send to Mr. Harsha for his release and get the facts. Then get busy and write some letters to Attorney-General Saxbe, Governor Gilligan, and anyone else you can think of to have this harassment of our National Guard brought to a screeching halt.

Pain Killers and Addiction

Lurking in the minds of patients is always the fear that pain killing medicines can cause addiction to the drug.

It is true, but rare, that innocent addiction to narcotics sometimes occurs.

Recurrent episodes of painful kidney stones and gall bladder disease need strong medication to offer relief. For years, morphine and similar drugs and chemicals have been used to control the acute pain of many diseases.

Today, relief from pain can be obtained with non-addictive drugs in order to eliminate the hazards of inadvertent addiction.

In most instances, all drugs are used for such a short period of time that the threat of dependency is reduced. Doctors vary the kind of drugs for the relief of pain so that the dependence on larger amounts of the same drug is removed.

It is a strange but true phenomenon that wax in the ears of a child, adolescent or adult can occasionally be responsible for persistent cough. A tiny nerve in the outer ear canal can be stimulated by the wax to produce a complex reflex responsible for a cough. Doctors have made the observation that when they remove wax from the ear canal a sudden, explosive cough may result.

The American people must be shaken out of their complacency that tuberculosis is a non-existent, wiped out disease. This is not true. Tuberculosis is a treacherous disease which is still high on the list of communicable infections.

It cannot be denied that there has been a constant, progressive decline in the frequency and severity of tuberculosis. Better nutrition, the antibiotics and specific anti-tuberculosis drugs have been responsible.

But it must be emphasized that chronic coughs must be investigated so that the early recognition of tuberculosis can point the way to active treatment and rapid recovery.

There once was the attitude that tuberculosis was a disease that should be kept secret. Today, mature people bring these problems to the attention of their doctor early and consequently avoid the devastating complications of neglected tuberculosis.

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers, and while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Local woman hurt after auto mishap

A Washington C.H. woman claimed injury following an accident investigated by Washington C.H. police officers Wednesday and two persons were charged with traffic violations in two accidents reported by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department.

A rear-end collision involving a car driven by Patricia J. Rinehart, 46, of 429 Lewis St., and a truck driven by Stanley T. Grogg, 67, Greenfield, occurred at the E. Court and North street intersection at 11:53 a.m. Wednesday, police reported.

Ms. Rinehart claimed injury at the scene, but according to hospital officials, was not treated. Damage was minor.

An accident occurred at 5:40 p.m. Wednesday on New Martinsburg Road, one-half mile from the Walnut Creek Road intersection, when a car driven by Carol L. Lightner, 26, Leesburg, attempted to pass a car driven by Dale E. Barton, 45, of 626 Gibbs Ave., and hit the Barton auto in the left rear fender. Damage was moderate and Ms.

Lightner was cited by Fayette County sheriff's deputies for not having an operator's license.

A rear-end collision occurred on Ohio 41, one-tenth of a mile north of Elm Street, at 12:55 p.m. Wednesday, sheriff's deputies reported. A car driven by Joan H. Ogan, 42, Greenfield, struck the rear of a car driven by Sharon K. Grooms, 31, of 1217 S. Hinde St., when the Grooms auto slowed to make a left turn. Mrs. Ogan was charged by sheriff's deputies for not maintaining an assured clear distance ahead.

Turks extend Cyprus lines

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Turkish forces may have started a drive to extend their lines along the northwest coast of Cyprus in violation of the cease-fire.

The Greek Cypriot national guard charged that Turkish forces at Lefka advanced two miles Wednesday to capture the Greek Cypriot village of Galmi.

The Greeks claimed the Turks attacked the national guard detachment in the village with mortars and machine guns. Danish troops of the United Nations peace force in Lefka said they heard about 300 shots and two explosions, but the Turkish commander refused to let them investigate.

Turkish Cypriots in Lefka believed the Turks would advance 12 miles along the coast road to Kokkina, a Turkish enclave. This would bring several Turkish Cypriot villages into the Turkish zone and would also give the Turks control of the rest of the coast of Morphou Bay, from which the Cyprus Mines Corp., an American company, exports the island's copper.

Copper shipments were halted by the Turkish invasion in July and have not been resumed.

Meanwhile, President Glafcos Clerides, the head of the Greek Cypriot government in Nicosia, denied reports that he had come around to the Turkish view that Cyprus must become a federation of autonomous Greek and Turkish Cypriot states.

Clerides said in a statement that his government "will accept no negotiations based only on solving the Cyprus problem through geographical federation."

The statement also said the Greek Cypriots will not join in talks on the political future of the island until all Cypriots displaced by the war are allowed to return to their homes. The total number of refugees is now estimated at 234,000, including 191,000 Greek Cypriots and 43,000 Turkish Cypriots.

Lebanon boy charged with Octa burglary

A 17-year-old Lebanon area youth has been arrested and charged by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department with breaking and entering, following an investigation by Sheriff's Sgt. William R. Crooks.

The youth allegedly was connected with the March 3 burglary of Allen's Grocery, Ohio 41 in Union Township, in which a quantity of cigarettes was stolen from the combination service station-grocery store.

Sheriff Donald L. Thompson stated a sliding glass window was broken to allow entry into the store.

Previous to the youth's arrest, a 20-year-old Bloomingburg man was charged with the breaking and entering. The man, Orland Lee Evans, entered a guilty plea in Fayette County Common Pleas Court and was placed on probation. As for the youth, he will face a hearing at a later date in Juvenile Court on the charge.

Non-traffic cases aired

A number of serious non-traffic charges were heard in Municipal Court Wednesday. Each of the six defendants pleaded either guilty or no contest.

Dallas A. Cash, of Cincinnati, was fined $200 and sentenced to six months in jail after he pleaded no contest to a charge of possession of marijuana levied by Sheriff's deputies.

The marijuana was reportedly found in Cash's clothing while he was showering at the Sheriff's department after being arrested for a traffic violation. All prisoners must shower before being escorted to a jail cell.

RONALD E. WHEELER, Jeffersonville, was fined $200 and sentenced to three months in jail after he pleaded guilty to a charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. However, 60 days of the jail sentence was suspended.

Wheeler took the car of an acquaintance without permission and struck two vehicles before being arrested by Sheriff's deputies.

Gary Puckett, 821 Maple St., was

Two larcenies checked here

Two larcenies were reported by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department and Washington C.H. police officers reported the recovery of a stolen bicycle.

A McCullough chain saw valued at $300 was taken from a barn owned by Phillip A. Crago, Bloomingburg, sometime between 6 p.m. Monday and 11 a.m. Tuesday. Sheriff's deputies reported the barn had been locked when the theft occurred. An investigation is continuing.

A mini-bike owned by Elmer L. Kingery, 10407 Allen Rd., was stolen from his residence sometime between Aug. 31 and Sept. 4, sheriff's deputies reported.

A 10-speed bicycle valued at $100, taken from a 727 E. Temple Street address, has been reported recovered by Washington C.H. police officers. The bicycle owned by Richard Haithecock, 1028 John St., disappeared sometime between 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Of all timed sports, the briefest is the quick draw in shooting in which times of .06 of a second have been recorded.

Boost asked in gas rates

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. is seeking permission from the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to boost gas rates by 24 per cent to 68.152 customers, most of them in suburban Cincinnati.

The increase would raise the average monthly bill $4.19 if the proposed rates are approved by the PUCO. Customers in the affected area now pay an average bill of $19.18 a month, the company said.

The request does not affect customers in Cincinnati. Cincinnati City Council determines rates in the city.

FOOTBALL SPECIAL

SCOL crown up for grabs

Not since 1963, when Circleville and Wilmington were perched at the top of the South Central Ohio League, have two teams tied for the league title.

If pre-season expectations hold true, this could very well be the year when the streak is broken. All indications point to one of the best balanced football campaigns in the SCOL's history, which began in 1923.

There have been seven years when more than one team claimed the SCOL championship. In two of the seven years, 1924 and 1958, three teams shared the honors.

With a few breaks this season, just about any of the seven squads can clinch the title when the dust settles in the final game. However, most of the experts feel defending champion Washington Senior High, Miami Trace, Circleville and Wilmington have the strongest possibilities.

The Lions, who romped to a 10-0 mark in taking the Class AA state crown, lost 20 seniors, which included 15 three-year lettermen, through graduation. This year's team, which is built around nine returning lettermen, is small and quick. However, because of the strength of last season's team, the offensive and defensive second units gained a lot of valuable playing time.

Miami Trace has 13 returning lettermen in its camp. Their nine returnees from the All-SCOL first team and honorable mention selections are tops in the league. Graduation cost the strong side of the offensive line and there have been some major adjustments on defense.

Fourteen lettermen return to Circleville. The Tigers, who finished 3-3 in the SCOL and 5-5 overall last year, will also benefit from a reserve team which was 8-1 and an undefeated freshman squad.

Circleville is bigger than last year. They possess tremendous overall team quickness.

Offensively, Circleville has a veteran backfield returning behind a highly-touted line. The Tigers' offense will work for multiple formations, including the wing slot, pro set and full house power I. The tailback will operate as the main ball carrier and the wingback is the primary pass receiver.

On defense, the Tigers' operate from a 5-2 monster defense. They use zone pass coverage. The Tigers have eight defensive starters returning compared to nine starters returning on offense.

Fresh from a 6-4 overall mark and 4-2 record in the SCOL, Wilmington recorded its first winning season since 1969 last year under first-year coach Ron Wilt. Although graduation took a heavy toll on the Hurricane, Wilmington is expected to be in the fight all the way.

Operating out of a wishbone offense, the Hurricane are expected to throw a lot more this season. However, with three-year letterman Jackie Watson at running back, the opposition had better stay awake. Watson gained over 1,000 yards rushing and scored over 100 points last season.

Hillsboro, which is picked to be a dark horse along with Greenfield and Unioto, has 19 returning lettermen. The Indians were 2-4 in the league and 2-8 overall last season. This year's team is led by the passing of Don Marsh and two outstanding sprinters.

With 14 lettermen returning, Greenfield will be out to improve on its 0-6 mark in the SCOL and 1-9 record overall in 1973. The Tigers have improved in team strength and their offensive backfield should also be strong.

Greenfield lacks experience at the interior offensive line positions. The Tigers also face a problem with an inexperienced defensive backfield.

Unioto, the only Class A team in the league, could very well have the biggest team. Seventeen lettermen, 13 of which are seniors, return from the Shermans.

Unioto's entire offensive backfield is composed of underclassmen. The three running backs each weigh 190 pounds.

Five of Unioto's returning lettermen weigh over 200 pounds. Three players, who are 210 pounds and above, will be on the offensive line. The linebackers average 195 pounds.

One new coach joins SCOL

After seeing a heavy turnover of four new coaches entering the realms of the South Central Ohio League in 1973, only one new mentor comes into the picture this season.

With the entry of Class A Unioto into the league, the Shermans bring with them first-year coach Mike Shoemaker. However, Shoemaker is not a rookie on the coaching scene in Ross County and the surrounding area.

Shoemaker is a 1967 graduate of Capital University. He served as football coach at Paint Valley High School 1967-69 and at Waverly 1970-72. He was at the helm of Paint Valley when the Bearcats broke Unioto's 32-game winning streak in 1968.

Before coming to Unioto as athletic director in 1973, Shoemaker spent one year as an assistant coach at Chillicothe High School. He replaces Joe McFadden, a former standout player for Washington Court House.

Washington's Maurice Pfeifer, who begins his 10th year as head coach of the Blue Lions, is the dean of the SCOL football coaches. A graduate of Ohio Northern University, Pfeifer has compiled a 54-31-5 career mark with the Lions, including last year's Class AA state champs.

Larry Cook returns for his third season as gridiron boss at Circleville. He guided the Tigers to an undisputed SCOL title in 1972 and was 3-3 last season in the league. Cook has an overall mark of 12-8 at Circleville.

Four coaches enter their sophomore season in the SCOL. Fred Zechman will be back at Miami Trace, Ron Wilt will be at Wilmington, Greenfield will have Fred Brisker and Mike Doyle returns to Hillsboro.

In his first season as coach of the Panthers, Zechman posted a 6-4 overall mark and tied for second place in the SCOL with a 4-2 record. Zechman, who is also a Capital University product, was head football coach at Western Reserve High School in Berlin Center for two years prior to the Miami Trace job. Zechman also served as an assistant coach at East Liverpool and Franklin high schools and he is the sixth coach in the Panthers' 13-year history.

Wilt is a product of Washington High School. The West Virginia University graduate served as an assistant coach at Wilmington prior to becoming their head mentor. In his first season as boss of the Hurricane, Wilt guided his team to a second place tie with Miami Trace in the SCOL and a 6-4 overall record.

In his first season at Greenfield, Brisker had a 1-9 overall mark and the Tigers failed to win a game in the SCOL. Brisker graduated from Miami University in 1972. He earned All Mid-American Conference honors with the Redskins and served as a graduate assistant coach. He was a three-sport letterman at Minford High School.

Doyle is also a Fayette County product, as he graduated from Miami Trace in 1964. He graduated from Wilmington College in 1968 and later received a master's degree from Ohio State. In his first season with the Indians, Doyle carried a 2-4 league mark and 2-8 overall.

Ross County power enters SCOL grid race

Although the number of teams is still seven, there have been two major changes in the South Central Ohio League since the final second ticked off the clock in the 1973 gridiron season. Unioto, a Class A powerhouse from the Scioto Valley Conference, has joined the SCOL and Madison Plains has taken leave for one year.

As the Shermans enter their 12th season of varsity football, they have become regarded as one of the top Class A teams in the state. The Tanks won three consecutive SVC crowns and never finished lower than third place in their 11 years of competition in the league. In their first year of varsity football, the Shermans captured third place in the SVC race.

"This year, our slogan is 'The '74 Challenge'," remarked first-year coach Mike Shoemaker. "Being the smallest school in the league definitely makes us an underdog."

"We realize every time we take the field, it is going to be a stiff test," Shoemaker continued. "Any victory will be hard fought and close."

"I think our main problem is confidence," the Sherman mentor added. "If we can make a good showing in the first three scrimmage games and the first three games of the regular season, we'll be confident of our play. Right now, we are still a bit hesitant."

Although the Shermans are the smallest school and have approximately 35 players on their roster, they have one of the biggest teams in the SCOL. In the offensive backfield, the Tanks' fullback and two halfbacks each weigh 190 pounds. Their offensive line has three players 215 pounds or better. Their defensive linebackers average 195 pounds.

After a disappointing 2-4 SCOL record and 2-8 mark overall in 1973, Madison Plains decided to leave the league. However, in the following months, the Eagles decided they wanted back into the league. Madison Plains will again join the SCOL in the spring to bring the league membership to eight schools.

SCOL competition begins on September 27. On that night, Greenfield will host Circleville, Washington travels to Unioto and Hillsboro hosts Wilmington.

Kickoff '74

"Kickoff '74" is the second annual football issue produced by the Record-Herald for Fayette County football followers. The issue gives the readers an insight to the upcoming season in the South Central Ohio League and how Miami Trace and Washington Senior high schools figure into the title picture.

On this year's cover, Mary Ann Rudduck, who is captain of the Lions' varsity cheerleaders, is assisted by Panther cheerleader Connie Hughes in initiating the 1974 grid campaign.

Zechman, Pfeifer eye tight race

As Fayette County grid bosses Fred Zechman and Maurice Pfeifer see it, there will be no overpowering giant in the South Central Ohio League football campaign in 1974.

Both coaches feel this season will be a tremendous one for balance in the SCOL and a team winning the title with one loss can be quite easily foreseen. As

FRED ZECHMAN

1973 Standings

	League		Overall
	W	L	W	L
Washington C.H.	6	0	10	0
Miami Trace	4	2	6	4
Wilmington	4	2	6	4
Circleville	3	3	5	5
Hillsboro	2	4	2	8
Madison Plains	2	4	2	8
Greenfield	0	6	1	9

second-year Panther coach Zechman put it, "I think it is very possible for two teams to share the title with two losses."

"Since I've been here, I have never seen this league this well-balanced," remarked Pfeifer, who is fielding his 10th team at Washington. "In the past, the league has been divided into upper and lower groups. A lot of the teams, which used to be doormats, have developed into title contenders."

"No team will be a shoe-in for the crown," continued Pfeifer. "Based on paper and due to their returning experience, Circleville and Miami Trace appear to have the edge. I think all of the SCOL teams will win at least one game in the league."

"In spite of our apparent weaknesses, we'll be making another run for the champion-hip," Pfeifer said. "As in the past seven years, the Lions have finished no worse than second in the SCOL."

"We plan to be in the thick of the battle," replied Zechman on the 1974 SCOL outlook. "It will be one of those things where any team can beat another team on any given night."

"There will be no down-teams in the league this season," Zechman continued. "Everyone has a better team, except for Washington Court House. However, the Lions always come up with a superb team. They were so strong last year that their reserves logged a lot of playing time."

Zechman also thought highly of Wilmington and Circleville. He cited the Hurricane's Jackie Watson and the Tigers' overall team speed as the major reasons.

"Wilmington lost a lot from their line, but they have a good backfield, which is centered around Watson," said Zechman. "Watson, who scored over 100 points and rushed for over 1,000 yards last season, is the type of kid you can stop six times but he is very capable of breaking one loose for 90 yards on the seventh try. Wilmington's key is their ability to break one away on offense and a very sound defense."

"Circleville will beat you with their overall team speed," Zechman pointed out. "They are very quick and have a lot of returning lettermen. The Tigers are also benefitting from outstanding reserve and freshman team records."

Although they will be dark horses, Zechman thought Unioto, Greenfield and Hillsboro cannot be counted out this season. Unioto and Greenfield both have tremendous size, while the Indians will benefit from a solid passing attack and speed.

While a tight battle is expected in the league this year, SCOL coaches will also be hoping to improve on their non-league slate. In 1972, the SCOL teams were 13-15-1 against non-league foes and last season the SCOL dipped to a 11-17 mark.

"I hope this will be the season when the SCOL can go through its non-league schedule on the plus side," Pfeifer said. "It has been a long time, but I think it is very possible with the addition of some bright young coaches to the league."

"After watching Mike Doyle at Hillsboro, Fred Brisker's team in Greenfield and Ron Wilt's Wilmington squad; I can foresee a good season for the SCOL teams," predicted Pfeifer. "I have also had the privilege of coaching against Unioto's Mike Shoemaker and feel Unioto will be a welcome addition to the league."

Panthers boast 13 veterans

With 13 returning lettermen in this camp, second-year coach Fred Zechman is expecting Miami Trace to be in the thick of the South Central Ohio League title chase this season.

Graduation took 12 seniors from the Panthers' roster. One of the hardest hit areas by the graduation was the offensive line. Among the top seniors Zechman lost were fullback-linebacker Doug Ford, guard-linebacker Greg Wieland, tackle-linebacker Jeff Long, defensive tackle John Woodrow and tackles Tom Hawk and David Holbrook.

Ford and Wieland were both first team All-SCOL selections last season. Ford was named as a fullback and Wieland was selected as a linebacker.

In addition to being named All-SCOL defensive tackle, Woodrow was selected to first team district and honorable mention All-Ohio honors. Woodrow's 6-foot-5 260 pound frame will be so tremendously missed along the defensive line.

Three defensive standouts from the 1973 squad, which finished 4-2 in the SCOL and 6-4 overall, return this season. First team All-SCOL returnees Jay Mossbarger, Greg Cobb and Jim Glass bolster the Panthers' defense.

While making the All-SCOL first team as a tight end, Mossbarger won honorable mention All-Ohio honors as a defensive end. The 6-foot-180 pound senior had 23 receptions for 252 yards and was the second leading scorer on the team with 40 points.

Cobb, a 5-foot-11, 184 pound junior, was selected to the All-SCOL as a defensive end. This year, he will be playing offensive tackle and defensive linebacker. Voted five times as the Panthers' Player of the Week, Cobb was involved in 108 total tackles.

Glass, a 6-foot-1, 171 pound senior, was a safety on last year's All-SCOL team. A knee injury this summer has kept him out of the lineup for the scrimmages.

Other top returnees for Zechman include honorable mention All-SCOL choices Tom Riley, Phil Skinner, Jeff Smithson, Tom Pfaff, Jeff Sagar and Ron Warnock.

Riley, who is a durable quarterback at 5-foot-11, 183 pounds, led the Panthers in scoring with 59 points last year. In addition to calling the signals on offense, Riley has been moved into the defensive tackle position.

Pfaff, Smithson and Skinner will be teaming up with Glass in the Panthers' defensive secondary. All three players, who will log a lot of playing time on offense, are 5-foot-9 and average less than 155 pounds.

Sagar, who is a fullback and linebacker, is serving as one of the tri-captains on the team along with Riley and Mossbarger. Sagar is 5-foot-7, 177 pounds and he will be doing most of the ball carrying for Miami Trace.

Warnock is a two-year letterman at defensive tackle. He is 6-foot-1 and weighs 191 pounds.

Miami Trace has four other returning lettermen. Kent Smith, a 5-foot-10, 170 pounder will be in at halfback and is fighting hard for a starting nod in the defensive backfield. Don Dunton, a 5-foot-9, 174 pounder, will be at offensive tackle and defensive linebacker. Senior center Tom Reisinger is 6-foot and weighs 190 pounds. Senior Mark Moore, who is 6-foot and weighs 170 pounds, returns at guard on offense.

"The offensive line has to be our strongest rebuilding job," remarked Zechman. "Our strong side of the line really suffered through graduation. We are trying to replace an average of 210 pounds with a 175 pound average."

"Several players have been moved from other positions to try and compensate for our heavy loss," Zechman continued. "This has created problems for us on our pass blocking."

The Panthers are loaded with a top notch receiving corps. Smithson at tight end and Mossbarger at tight end each have good moves and an excellent set of hands. In addition, Skinner, who possesses good speed, will be sharing the split end spot with Smithson.

In the backfield, to replace Ford at fullback, Sagar has been switched from his halfback post. Pfaff and Smith will be in at halfbacks.

"Riley's passing game is coming along real well this season," Zechman noted. "If our blocking comes around, we can offer a well-balanced attack through the air and on the ground."

"Offensively, we are striving for consistency," he added. "We want to get rid of the mistakes in the scrimmages."

Miami Trace's defense along the line and the linebackers is a combination of the new mixed in with the old. Zechman has moved most of his experienced players to the line and added new players at linebacker.

With most of the experience returning on defense, the Panthers could be very stingy when it comes to giving up yardage this season. Although Woodrow and two linebackers were lost through graduation, Zechman hopes to be ready by tomorrow night's opening kickoff.

Two major defensive changes took place this season. Riley was switched from outside linebacker to tackle and he has been very impressive in the scrimmages. Cobb has been moved from defensive end to inside linebacker.

"For the first few games, one of our weaknesses will be how long it takes for the new people to come along and how long it takes Cobb to readjust from his previous position," Zechman pointed out.

Opposing quarterbacks may find it very difficult to be successful against the Panthers' secondary. In addition to having four lettermen in the defensive secondary, the back-up man will also be a letterman.

"The overall strength of our team is the defense," replied Zechman. "It has to be if we want to win."

Although Zechman has an excellent place kicker in Riley, the Panther mentor is a firm believer in running for the extra points. "If you can score half the time by running for the extra points, it is just as good as a kid making 100 per cent of his extra point kicks."

Zechman indicated that the tough schedule, both league and non-league is a disadvantage for his team this season. The Panthers open the season with four rough non-league contests and must play the other three top contenders in the SCOL - Circleville, Wilmington and Washington Court House, away from home.

Graduation rips Blue Lions

"Our big question this year is: can we play defense with 150 pounders?" remarked Lion coach Maurice Pfeifer. "If we can play defense with those 150 pounders, we will be tough."

Lions football squad with the 1973 team, which captured the state's Class AA championship, is like comparing night and day. Graduation riddled the Lions of 20 seniors, 15 of which were three-year lettermen. Major losses came in the persons of Garth Cox, Chuck Wilson, Mark Johnson, John Sanderson, Duke Willis, Alan Coppock and Greg McCune.

Cox, now a freshman gridder at Ohio State, was a 6-foot-5 245 pound guard and defensive tackle. In addition to All-SCOL honors, Cox was an honorable mention selection All-Ohio and was named to the South squad for the annual North-South High School All-Star contest in Canton.

Wilson, who will be playing football at the U.S. Naval Academy, was chosen as the Class AA Ohio Player of the year. He rolled up 1,531 yards on the ground and scored 184 points.

Johnson, a third team All-Ohio selection at cornerback, was the Lions' second leading scorer with 74 points and Coppock's primary pass receiver. Johnson grabbed 25 passes for 509 yards. On defense, Johnson intercepted six passes.

Sanderson, a 6-foot-4 290 pound offensive tackle and defensive guard, was a third team All-Ohio selection at his offensive position. In addition to Sanderson, Coppock and McCune, who was the center, were All-SCOL selections.

"We'll be small and quick this season," Pfeifer pointed out as he checked over a roster containing just nine returning lettermen. "If any team is going to beat us, they'll have to run at us because they will not be able to run around us."

Offensively, fullback Larry Dumford is the only returning starter. Dumford, who is 5-foot-11 181 pounds, was selected to the All-SCOL first team as a linebacker last season.

"Overall, I just wish our offense had more time and more game seasoning," reflected Pfeifer. "It is very difficult to maintain any type of consistency when you are this small."

The offensive backfield for the Lions is bigger than their offensive line. The backfield will center around the running and blocking of Dumford and the passing and running of quarterback Jeff Brown. Brown, the Lions' captain and a two-year letterman, was a All-SCOL choice as kicker last season.

Replacing Wilson will be either his brother Leroy, who is a sophomore, or Randy Gardner. Both players have better than average speed, but they are mall and inexperienced. Gardner has been converted to the spot after serving as a quarterback last year.

To replace Johnson, Pfeifer will choose between Jim Vess and letterman Randy Sparkman. Although he is a senior, this is Vess' first year for football. Sparkman is 5-foot-4 and weighs 131 pounds.

There are no returning lettermen along the offensive line. The biggest player is Kevin Pfeifer, a 187 pound left tackle. Letterman John Anders, who is the right guard, is the only senior on the line.

Pfeifer said he is very happy to have plenty of depth at the guard position. However, he also noted there are very few tackles on the team.

When it comes to the passing game, Brown will have a bevy of good receivers to select from. Lettermen Dewey Foster, Mark Stewart, David Thompson, Mark Lamberson, Vess and Sparkman all have better than average speed.

Filling the gaps left by Cox and Sanderson will be an even tougher task on defense. Only three starters return to the Lions' defense, which recorded eight shutouts last year.

Honorable mention All-SCOL middle guard Richard Haithcock is being moved over to fill the spot vacated by Cox. At 5-foot-7 170 pounds Haithcock is 10 inches shorter and 75 pounds lighter than Cox.

Filling Sanderson's defensive guard spot will be Brian Haines. Haines, who is a junior, suits in at 5-foot-9 157 pounds. This will be considerably less than the 6-foot-4 290 pound frame in the same position a year ago.

Two other lettermen return on defense for the Lions. Honorable mention All-SCOL cornerback Gilbert Sparkman, who is 5-foot-4 135 pounds, will help anchor the defensive backfield. Letterman Tim O'Flynn, who suits in at 6-foot-1 188 pounds, has grabbed one of the defensive end positions.

Washington's defensive backfield is expected to average around 145 pounds. Since Foster and Gardner have some experience, they are both expected to see a lot of action in the defensive backfield. Despite being out for only his first season, Vess may have the other defensive halfback position won.

"The fortunes of our team will rise or fall with our defense," Pfeifer commented. "With this small of a unit, it will be difficult to give a good pass rush. However, since our quickness is better than last year, we should get good pursuit."

In the kicking department, Brown will be counted on for punting and kickoffs, O'Flynn will also handle kickoffs and junior Greg Marti will do the place kicking. Brown was the top punter in the SCOL last season.

"I believe the most important play in the game of football is the punt," Pfeifer pointed out. "If you can force a turnover on a punt, you can save 35-40 yards."

"Our strengths this season will be a fierce team pride and a winning tradition," the Lion boss continued. "We are on a 14-game winning streak and this junior class has only participated in one losing game. With our excellent physical conditioning and so many people capable of playing, we will be able to two platoon this season."

"I can not be anything but enthusiastic about this season," Pfeifer added. "The boys have responded well to game conditions in scrimmages and it is very unusual for inexperienced players to be this far along."

"We will be an exciting team to watch this season because people are always rooting for the little guy," he noted. "I guess if you were to paint us a color, it would be brilliant green."

Miami Trace leads All-SCOL returnees

Before the opening kickoff of the 1974 season tomorrow night, Miami Trace already leads the league in one category. The Panthers have nine players returning from last year's first team and honorable mention selections in the South Central Ohio League.

With the nine talented returnees, the Panthers have one more than Greenfield. Hillsboro has seven players returning from last season's all-league selections, while Circleville has six. Both Washington and Wilmington each have four league selections coming back.

Of the nine players returning from the All-SCOL for the Panthers, three were first team selections, which is also one more than Washington and Circleville.

Panther coach Fred Zechman will have tight end Jay Mossbarger and safety Jim Glass returning to their regular positions. Junior Greg Cobb is being moved from defensive end to inside linebacker.

Mossbarger went on to receive first team district honors as a defensive end last season. He was also named to the honorable mention squad All-Ohio at the same position.

Linebacker Larry Dumford and kicker Jeff Brown will be back at Washington Senior High. Circleville's top returnees are tackle Scott Bowman and cornerback Alan Underwood.

Wilmington has safety Jackie Watson back and Greenfield is led by defensive end Gary Barr. Hillsboro is the only team without any first team players returning.

Class A Unioto sports two top returnees from their play in the Scioto Valley Conference. Linebacker Pat Kerns was chosen to the first team All-SVC and second team all-district. Kicker Jeff Allen was first team all-district and honorable mention All-Ohio.

Local grid teams slate special dates

Five special dates are to be remembered on this year's calendar by Fayette County football boosters.

On October 4, Washington Court House will be hosting its annual Parents' Night. South Central Ohio League foe Greenfield will be providing the opposition for the Lions.

Bishop Wehrle will invade Gardner Park Stadium on October 18. On this date, Washington will be celebrating its Homecoming.

The following week, October 25, Greenfield will travel back into Fayette County. Miami Trace will host the Tigers in its Homecoming game.

When Miami Trace clashes with the Lions in Gardner Park Stadium on November 1, Washington will also be observing Band Night. The contest with the Panthers marks the last home date of the season for the Lions.

The Panthers will play their final home game on November 8. Unioto, the league's newest entry, will invade Miami Trace on Parents' Night.

Blue Lions hold lead in rivalry

When Miami Trace invades Gardner Park Stadium for the 14th annual clash with Washington Court House in Fayette County's grid classic, the Panthers will be trying to stop the Lions from winning their third consecutive game for the second time in the short series.

Slaughtering the Panthers 36-12 last season, the Lions stretched their win skein to two games in the series and raised their overall edge to 7-5-1. In the victory, the eventual Associated Press state champions clinched their 13th South Central Ohio League crown.

Led by Class AA Ohio Player of the Year, Chuck Wilson, the Lions chalked up 364 yards on offense compared to 131 yards for the Panthers. Wilson rambled for 235 yards in 31 carries and scored 25 points in the victory.

Only once before has either team won three straight games. The Lions rolled up three wins between the years 1968 and 1970.

Gardner Park Stadium seems to hold a hex over the Panthers. In only six previous trips to the Lions' field, the Panthers have only recorded one win. Miami Trace's only triumph was a 40-20 win in 1972.

Lion Mentor Maurice Pfeifer enters his 10th year in the Fayette County battle. Pfeifer's record against the Panthers is 5-4.

The November 1 match-up could very well determine the 1974 SCOL championship. Along with Circleville and Wilmington, the two Fayette County teams will be strong contenders for the crown this season.

Panthers elect captains

Miami Trace players have elected three players to lead them this season. Serving as senior tri-captains for the 1974 football campaign will be Jeff Sagar, Tom Riley and Jay Mossbarger.

Sagar returns as a fullback and linebacker this season for the Panthers. As the full back, he is expected to do the bulk of the ball carrying.

As a junior, he was an honorable mention selection to the All-South Central Ohio League. The 5-foot-10, 170 pounder, is the son of Mr. and Mrs.

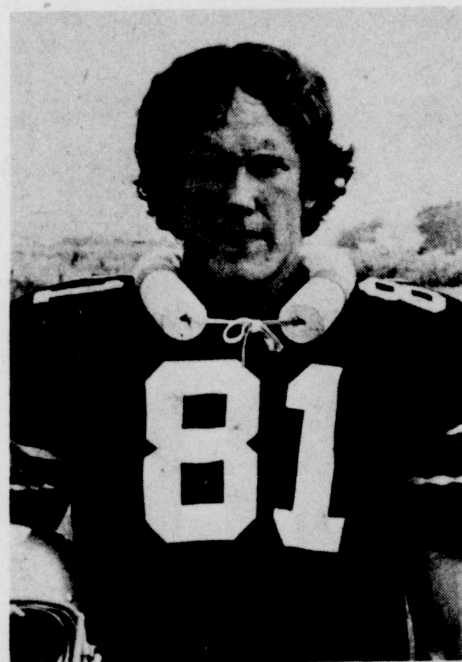

John L. Sagar, Ste. Rt. 35 NE.

Riley will be the signal caller as the quarterback this year and he has been moved to defensive tackle. Riley led the Panthers in scoring last season with 59 points.

Also an honorable mention choice to the All-SCOL unit, Riley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Riley, 1369 Dayton Ave. He is 5-foot-11 and weighs 183 pounds.

Mossbarger is the son of Dr. and Mrs. D.E. Mossbarger, 119 Midland, Bloomingburg. He is 6-foot and weighs 180 pounds.

Mossbarger won honors both as a tight end and a defensive end last season. He was elected to the first team All-SCOL as a tight end and earned honorable mention All-Ohio at this defensive position. He had 23 pass receptions for 252 yards last year and he was the second leading scorer on the team with 40 points.
